Changes: From The Old To The New At BOHS

Changes! We've all changed in some way or another over this past year, and even now we are changing. Seniors will be going off to college or off to work. Juniors will no longer be second best but on top of the heap. Sophomores finally get to be called upper-classmen, and freshmen no longer have to be called the dirtiest word ever to be spelled out in Webster's dictionary, FRESHMEN!

As we change, our school changes with us physically, academically, socially. Brea Olinda High School always set high standards for it and its students. Sometimes to re these goals changes have to made, and this year changes w made. From staff to student changes could be seen through the year.

This Year Mrs. Jean Sullivan t on the challenge of becoming Pri pal. That's saying a lot, because e after working here as a teacher and Vice-Principal for 20 years, she still wants to stay. We thank Mrs. Sullivan for doing a superb job of serving our school and for helping lay the foundation for a better education.

Mrs. Sullivan was not alone though at being in the forefront of changes. This year there was a slight addition in the staff to accommodate the students' changing needs. The following teachers have come to BOHS to en-

Mr. John Roach has even made his new home here at BOHS, coming from Laurel Elementary School.

Changes could also be seen in the students' attitudes. Students took part in many new challenges from competitive speech to competitive writing, and this enthusiasm gave new life to many activities. Test scores were higher to the shock of the teachers and the relief of the students. Everyone seemed to really work together this year to keep the name of Brea Olinda on top!

break up the old routines, and set a new change of pace. There were class competitions being held to show who was really the best. Games were played, music blared, and at Halloween there was even a costume contest held by Key Club to spice up the students' life. Who will ever forget all of those very special memories?

Of course, not every change was met with open arms. Many were upset with the change in the dreaded tardy policy. Now confess! You weren't all that happy about this were you? One-two-three-four tardies and you were off to detention. That's all it took! Four tardies in one class and then you got to spend time doing your most favorite thing in the whole world. No, not getting a tan at the beach, but serving out detention. Well, whether you are for it or against it, it is a change you have to live with.

Perhaps the hardest change for many of us to accept was the loss of part of our sports facilities. The upper athletic fields and the newly built baseball field were gone before Christmas, and the football field went out with a big celebration, but a lot of sorrow was still felt by each as we said good-bye to a part of our school and a part of our home. All of these changes are preparing us for the bigg change of all, the new school tha being built in the hills. So m memories have been made here many tears have been spilled here many football-games have b played here, so many friends h been made here, and now we hav change with the times and move o something bigger and better. larger amount of room for the ever increasing student population, and more modern facilities with many new advances.

We face changes every day in life, and will all be facing changes in the years to come. The important thing to remember is that things change all the time. So, if you don't like something now, maybe, just maybe, it will change in the future.

Homecoming Treasured Forever In Our Hearts

Starting off our last Homecoming Day at Brea Olinda High School with an exciting and colorful parade, the celebration continued into the evening. Following the theme "Forever in Our Hearts," floats, festively, decorated by all four classes, and the PTSO, including a special float in tribute to Dyer Bennett, a longtime Brea community supporter, started off the night's festivities. The activities came to a climax with the crowning of Marily del Carpio Homecoming Queen. The Court a consisted of Debbie Carman, Hele Lefton, Erica Pearson, and St Peppler. On hand to crown the Hor coming Court were members of Girls' League who put in many ho planning and carrying out all the tails smoothly. ASB

Changing BOHS For The Better

ASB did an excellent job in getting the entire school involved with special activities. With their main goal being to decide what could be saved from this school to use as fund raiser momentos, ASB sponsored a numerous amount of activities, which related to the school's spirit. For example, the Newcomer's Dance and Pizza Party, Homecoming Parade, pep rallies, The Red Cross Blood Drive, The Needy Family Drive, special assemblies, and our last home football game ever to be played at this stadium were just a few of the many ASB sponsored events which took place. Along with all of the activities ASB was involved with, The Ground Breaking Ceremony for the new high school was a very special project for ASB, because it marked the start of a new school for BOHS. According to advisor Mr. Reed, the class worked extremely well independently, which contributed highly to Brea Olinda's successful school year. With dedication like that, it's no wonder that BOHS is the best!

The Brea Wildcats proved they were ready to win their league opener vs. Savannah High on October 18th. The Wildcats held the Rebels to 131 total yards and shut them out, their second shut-out of the season.

Brea showed dominance on the field. The Wildcats opened an early lead in the first quarter with Mike Oziminski's touchdown, and continued to widen the gap in the second quarter with an 83 yard fumble return by Jason Miller for another touchdown. scored again in the third with a 1 yard run by Mike Oziminski, making Brea's lead 21-0. And to top it off, a 13 yard pass from Shon Riley to Rob Moore for the Wildcat's last score, made the final totals Brea 26 and Savannah 0.

CHANGESCHANGESCHANGES CHANGESC

Having clubs that organize dances, fund raisers, pep rallies, and other activities change the attitude of school life. School is no longer all work and no play. Organizations give students a break and create an atmosphere of fun and friends. BOHS has many organizations to interest a wide variety of students so everybody can be involved and everybody has fun.

Having withstood the course of time and representing change itself is Girls' Athletics. This organization has been in existence since the school was founded and was expanded eleven years ago when CIF opened competition for girl athletes. Its purpose is to promote athletics, to uphold and carry out the highest standards of health and sportsmanship, and to supply a spirit of sincere service to the school. Led by advisor Sharon Caperton and president Julie Sokol, GAA successfully sponsored another Sadie Hawkins held in November, and planned the spring Powder Puff game. In addition to sponsoring school oriented events, GAA pays entry fees to various tournaments and is responsible for paying all officials. Girls' Athletics also purchases needed equipment, uniforms, and provides the money for coaches to attend special clinics. All female athletes are involved with the club which consists of seven elected officers and nine appointed managers from various sports. In between all their current activities and obligations, Girls' Athletics is attempting to raise enough money to become self supporting and if their determination and dedication persists, this goal is sure to be accomplished.

Meeting week after week, this group of active and spirited girls proved successful in their efforts to serve the school as well as the community. Girls' League, led by advisor Kim Van Geloof and President Laura Moore, prevailed in putting on another spectacular Homecoming and a very enjoyable Coed. In addition, Girls' League was busy aiding senior citizens and orphanages in numerous service projects and in honoring superior girl students at school. By sponsoring other events such as Hello Week, new student get-togethers, teachers' teas, and Mother and Father-Daughter socials, Girls' League helped bring faculty and students closer together.

Royal blue and white became the trademark for many girls who generously dedicated many hours of their valuable time to keep up Girls' League's successful reputation. Cabinet members were assisted by numerous volunteers who should be commended for all their many hours of service for the organization. Accomplishing goals and making new friends, made this year a Girls' League year to remember.

Yearbook Does It Once Again

With the help of advisor, Mrs. Gahr, and editor, Jim Hudak, the yearbook staff had another successful year. The organized group of students worked together to produce a memorable yearbook. New members on the staff were encouraged and supported by more experienced ones throughout the year. Having a group of friendly, enthusiastic, dedicated students created an atmosphere for unique and exciting ideas. Each person took part in many jobs: designing layouts, taking photographs, soliciting advertisments, writing copy, and making sure they had plenty of fun. Even with the stress of impending deadlines and lots of work, they managed to get everything completed and did a great job. Thanks to all the students of this class, wonderful accomplishments and lasting friendships have resulted. Their knowledge, hard work, and dedication greatly contributed to this year's yearbook.

Mrs. Gahr suggests an idea for editor, Jim Hudak, to try.

VARSITY CHEER

Exploding With Enthusiasm

Congratulations were in order for the 1986-87 Varsity pep squads after they brought home two superior trophies from the U.S.A. Spirit Camp in Santa Barbara. The "Winky" mascots also deserved "congrats" for bringing back a medal for most improved and for being asked back to instruct at another U.S.A. camp.

All of the awards were earned after much hard work in the long summer practices beginning at 6:00 in the morning. This hard work contributed to the top quality of the busy squads. In addition during the year these squads performed at least two games a week, while making favors and sign for varsity athletic teams.

The groups could not have accomplished so much if it were not for their responsible president Erica Pearson, head yell for winter sports; Stacy Peppler, head song for winter sports; Lisa White, head yell for spring sports; Charisse Hitchcock, head song for spring sports, Dominique Hitchcock, and the direction from advisor Cathy Zehner. Instructor Cam Malotte.

Over the loud speaker, the first place winner was announced for the Placentia Heritage Days Parade-Brea Olinda High School! This was definitely a time when all of the long hours of rehearsal pay off and seem not so bad. Times like this were the highlight of the year for the Brea-Olinda Marching Band and Color Guard. Behind each success were times of pain and toil, more affectionately known as rehearsals. Hours of preparation were spent before the very idea of competing came to mind. "The kids really came together and took on initiative and responsibilities to reach their own personal goals," commented Mr. Malotte on the kids who made this year a success in every aspect.

The band was led by the superb team of Lori Bachand, Drum Major, and Mr. Cameron Malotte, instructor. Lori was honored this past summer at the United Spirits and Association Camp with a plaque for "Most Outstanding Drum Major." The Color Guard, under the direction of Krista Dietz, captain, and Mrs. Shoen, advisor, took second place at both the Placentia Parade, as well as, the Glendale Parade. At the Glendale Days of the Verdugos Parade, the band took first again. This parade is the third largest in Southern California providing the best of competition to be found. The band and Color Guard have had a very successful season.

This year's band faithfully put in the hours to reap the rewards of victory. Hour upon hour were spent on parade selections and field show routines. Time is even spent over the summer to perfect skills and make the group the best that they could be. In March of last year, their hard work was recognized, and they were invited by the World of Pageantry to attend the Kuhio Days Parade in Hawaii. This honor is only bestowed upon a small number of high school bands, so just to have been invited singled them out as one of the most enthusiastic groups. Although they did not place, they performed well overall. From the trip each person gained a sense of pride and learned from the experience. Hopefully the band will have many other opportunities to march ahead of the rest.

KEY CLUB

Changing The Community

A very active group of students joined up and gave the '86-'87 Key Club one of its most successful years to date. Led by president Jim Hudak, the club's main objectives were to have 2500 hours of community service and a very active and dedicated club. The students organized a Halloween Costume Extravaganza, it's annual Road Rally, and had members man the Toys for Tots bin at the mall. In addition Key Club collected money and bought Christmas dinners for needy families, and partook in many community service projects. A branch of the Kiwanis Club advised by Mrs. Rodriguez and visited frequently by Kiwanis representative Todd Beckley the Key Club worked hard and had another fun and exciting school year.

"I've got a great idea for fundraising!" exclaimed Jose Meda.

The Mecha Club carried a new attitude this year, added to old traditions. This was Mecha Club's fourth year in operation, since it began with the purpose of unifying the students by creating a positive attitude. "There has been a wonderful development of community spirit amongst the students. A new positive attitude towards school and leadership has been the results," commented Mrs. Barbara Cram.

The first Mecha Club originated on a college campus in the form of a student movement to promote Mexican heritage awareness. Mecha is actually the abbreviated form of "El Movimiento Estudiantil de Chicanos Aztlan." Mecha Club is involved with service community, as well as, providing a social atmosphere for the students to have fun. "I really enjoy being a part of Mecha Club. I participate in all the activities to make our club a success. The best thing is, I really have a lot of fun and have made a lot of close friends," exclaimed Medelaine Manansala.

This year the Mecha Club gave out Thanksgiving baskets to the needy. They worked in conjunction with the Mecha Club in Fullerton to provide this caring gesture towards the community. In December, they held a candy sale to raise money for school purposes as well as entertainment. Of course, a good dose of fun is thrown in as an extra bonus.

Belonging to the Mecha Club, allowed these students to rely upon one another for support and encouragement. The goal is to keep a postive attitude towards the school and what's to come later in life.

Expanding The Horizons

Led by advisor Mrs. Brigitte Little and Co-Presidents Monica Schoeffler and Rhona Kumar, and aided by Vice-President Jason Clements and Secretary/Treasurer Jeff Banks, the Foreign Language Club jumped to new heights by visiting such places as the Norton Simon Museum, the Getty Museum, and the Oktoberfest. They also went to foreign films and plays, and they had a beach picnic and Christmas get-together. They had many fundraisers, such as selling gummy bears from Germany, to continue to support Jennifer Phillips, a fourteen year old Sioux Indian girl who lives in North Dakota. Jennifer visited Mrs. Little last summer.

The Foreign Language Club has been in existence for about 12 years, always advised by Mrs. Little. The special purpose of the club is to encourage students in becoming more familiar with other cultures and different life styles and ideas.

This group's knowledge in these fields helped improve play and musical productions which are important to the performing arts department. The main purpose of Theatre Tech is for the crew members to create a better show and for everyone to enjoy that creation. Directed by Mr. Holst, with the assistance of Mr. Zoechler, the club meets whenever needed and for occasional group activities such as swimming at members houses and having beach parties. The members work once a month for class work and at rehearsals and showtimes. There are no special skills or knowledge required to enroll in Theatre Tech, but for show/productions some skills, plus a strong arm and a willing mind are much appreciated. When asked how long there had been a need for theatre tech crew, Mr. Holst replied, "As long as there has been a theatre."

Once again The Wildcat newspaper staff has been the sole regularly written source of necessary information and entertainment for Brea Olinda High School.

This year, the newspaper staff headed by Adrienne Quinn, jumped at the chance to write about something everyone is excited to be informed about, the new school. No longer would one have to doubt about something they heard. This is why the publication of The Wildcat is so vital to the school in providing reassurance of the information we received.

Helping Adrienne Quinn is Tom Howell. And next in line in the heirarchy of newspaper is News editor Jyll Gelb, Opinion editor Keith Osborn, Feature editor Audra Wright, Sports editor Alan Ito, and Exchange editors Stephanie Nelson and Kelly Solesbee. Anybody could tell that throughout the whole year the staff was strong believers in the saying, "All work and no play make Newspaper Staff dull boys and girls." The advisor, Dorcas Hufford, is only too happy to reward the hard workers with donuts or any other satisfying goodie of the sort.

The Brea Wildcat climbed higher and higher and certainly reached new heights.

Enthusiasm, encouragement, and dedication were just some of the qualities demonstrated by the Junior Varsity Cheer/Song Squad. Their encouraging smiles and ebullient shouts of "Let's go Brea," along the sidelines, seemed to inspire the teams on to victory.

Though they've had their differences, the girls managed to come together to perform on the field and at some of the pep rallies. Christina Canellopoulos, one of last year's superb J V Cheer/Song leaders gave much support and advice while she helped coach this year's maturing squad.

The group's true dedication was shown when they spent time after school making run-through signs and favors for the J V teams. On Mondays after school, you could always find the squad with their faculty advisor Mrs. Melanie Hagstrom. The dedication and service shown by these friendly, spirited girls helped to bring a pleasant change to Brea Olinda High School.

Leadership And Service

Striving to double the membership, double the service, and double the fun, the 86'-87' Lettermen's Club had one of its most prosperous years yet. With the help of some of the best athletes at BOHS, the club sponsored some successful events and participated in a few projects. They sponsored the annual Brea Rotary Relays, Brea Basketball Tournament, and the Thank You Banquet, at which members named the Coach of the Year. Partaking in other activities, the Lettermen's Club also controlled the campus clean-up project. Says advisor Mr. Ken Reed: "The time and work spent is made enjoyable by the association with the guys who make up the Lettermen's Club."

Matti Fromson and Dustin Borklund can often be found in the library doing intense research for their speeches.

Sarah Engerman is caught napping, but is trying to look like she's reading.

What once began as a pet project of Mrs. Janet Kolb, instructor, has developed into a dynamic super team of speakers. This is the second year that the Speech Team has been set up in such a way that it is a class. This year there are 19 active participators who are enrolled. Of course, speakers who are not enrolled in the class are encouraged to compete as well, but there is a definite advantage of the use of class time to prepare for speeches.

Competition is what sets these talented speakers apart from the others. "Competition can be pretty tough sometimes, but you get a lot of experience out of public speaking," commented Leigh Ann Saddington. Competition was found in five heavily populated categories: expository, original oratory, original prose and poetry, humorous interpretation, and dramatic interpretation. The Speech Team competes in competitions sponsored by the Orange County Speech League. This year's agenda is filled with tournaments, but to name a few are: the First Novice at Cypress, the First Varsity at Rosary, and the Cal-State University Fullerton Invitational. Of course, the main objective of the year is to reach the State Finals.

In the Speech Team's first competition alone, they took three trophies: two first place trophies and Sweepstakes, to the delight of all. In addition, they took three certificates of superior and six certificates of excellence. "I'm very happy we're getting off to a good start! I just knew that this group was filled with potential and talented students," stated Mrs. Kolb expressing her pride for the success of the Speech Team. Well, it seems it's all in how you say it. And these are the type of speakers that just might make you change your mind about speeches.

Julia is found working, although she is supposed to be convalescing at the Larrabee household.

Before she goes off to Paris, a sweet naive, Sabrina talks about growing up at the Larrabee mansion.

Commitment, cooperation, enthusiasm? What do all of these things have in common? Why, they're all qualities that the members of the Interact Club contain. This year, led by President Brian Daucher and advisor Mrs. Sepulvada, Interact was the proud sponsor of activities such as Santa letters and Adopt-a-Family. Along with their sponsored activities, Interact was also heavily involved with making donations to the Probation Department for needy families, which was just another example of Interact's great, contributed service to the community.

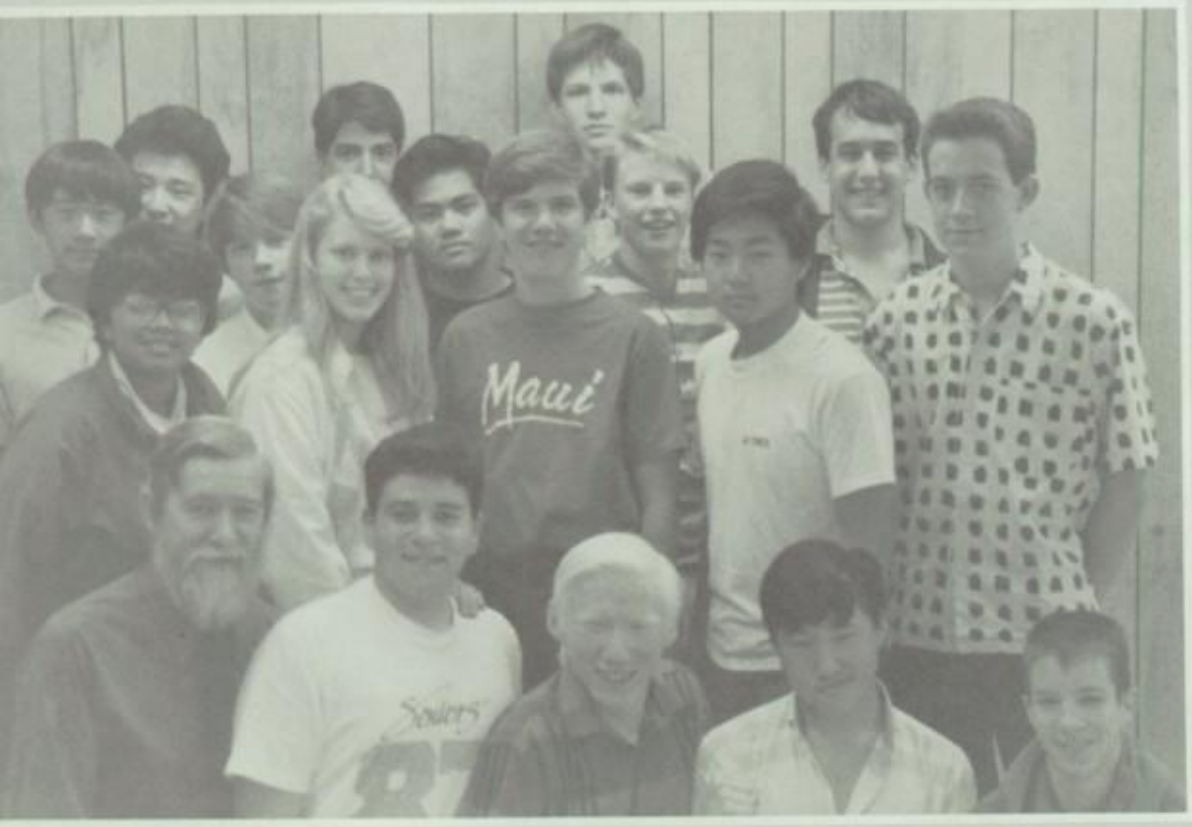
Chess Club Excels In Showing Royal Flair



This year, BOHS was proud to acquire a new club to the campus called the Chess Club. Led by advisor Mr. Hilleary, the Chess Club had meetings once a week unless they had tournaments. Then the players met everyday to work on their chess skills. The club members competed with the members of other schools' Chess Clubs year round, and a few of the more advanced members played in various chess matches throughout Orange County. In addition to the matches that they themselves participated in, Chess Club sponsored several contests ranging from novice to expert, for all students and faculty. With such success in their first year of existence, it would be safe to say that the future appears bright for Brea-Olinda's Chess Club.

Just a prime example of the extreme concentration which is necessary for a great chess competer, as is shown on Karthik Gopalakrishna's face.

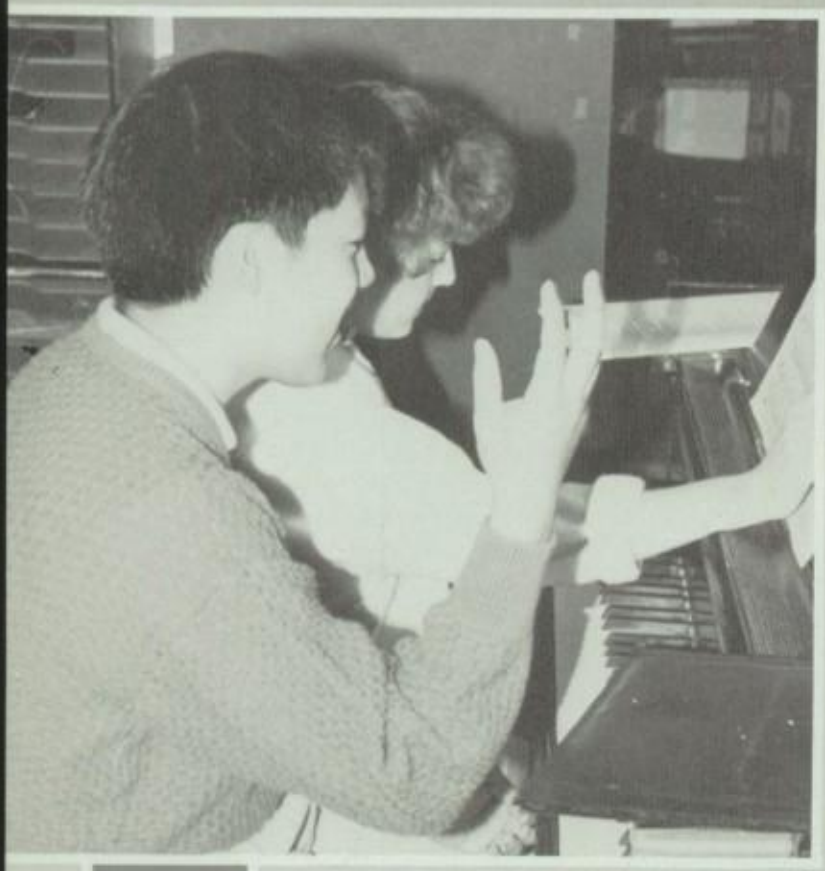
And the band played on, and on, and on



After the soft flowing melodies of the Concert Band drift away, in come the 20 members of the Jazz Band for their hour of practicing quick swing and hard jazz rock. This band, which has only been in existence for a period of four years, has illustrated the members' ability by performing at Fullerton College and at the junior high to win over new talent. Though the band didn't conduct any fundraisers this year, next year they will conduct several in order to prepare for a tour next spring. Under the direction of the new enthusiastic band director Cecilia Schumm, the Jazz Band looks forward to exciting challenges in the world of music next year. So, as the drums and trombones beat to the rhythms of modern jazz, on ward sound the talents of the musicians of Brea Olinda High School.

Concert Band Beautiful Music

The time is 7:35 A.M. and there is a symphonic tune floating across campus. This melody can be traced back to the large rectangular room by the North-West side of campus. There forty-five talented musicians have gathered with their instruments to transform famous black notes on plain white paper into modern pieces of musical art. This year's band members met the challenge of adjusting to a new band director, Cecilia Schumm, who arrived mid-year, bringing her talent and experience to Brea Olinda High School. As a result, the band has continued to sustain its high quality performances while participating in many musical activities. Their credits include the staging of the Spring Concert here at Brea Olinda and participation in musical competitions at Valencia and Wilson High Schools. The band has displayed enormous effort and willingness to perform various styles of music from numerous composers and eras. Thus it is certain that the sounds of the Brea Olinda High School Concert Band will continue to bring those black notes on plain white paper to musical life.

A twinkling tune tickles tender hearts.

The representatives- Seniors, Jenny Summers and Marily del Carpio; Junior, Dominique Hitchcock; and Sophomore, Kelly Oyler, were mainly in charge of organizing such things as parties and other activities that Dance Production members had during the year.

This year, Dance Production only performed two dances at the Fountain Valley Concert because the dances were longer and more involved. The types of dances that were performed were Modern and Jazz.

At the choreographer's Winter Concert, Advanced Dance performed along with the members of Dance Production. Advanced Dance also performed a Dance Hour in December in our high school auditorium.

With their positive attitudes and well developed dancing skills, all the members and Mrs. Finn worked very hard to make this year successful.

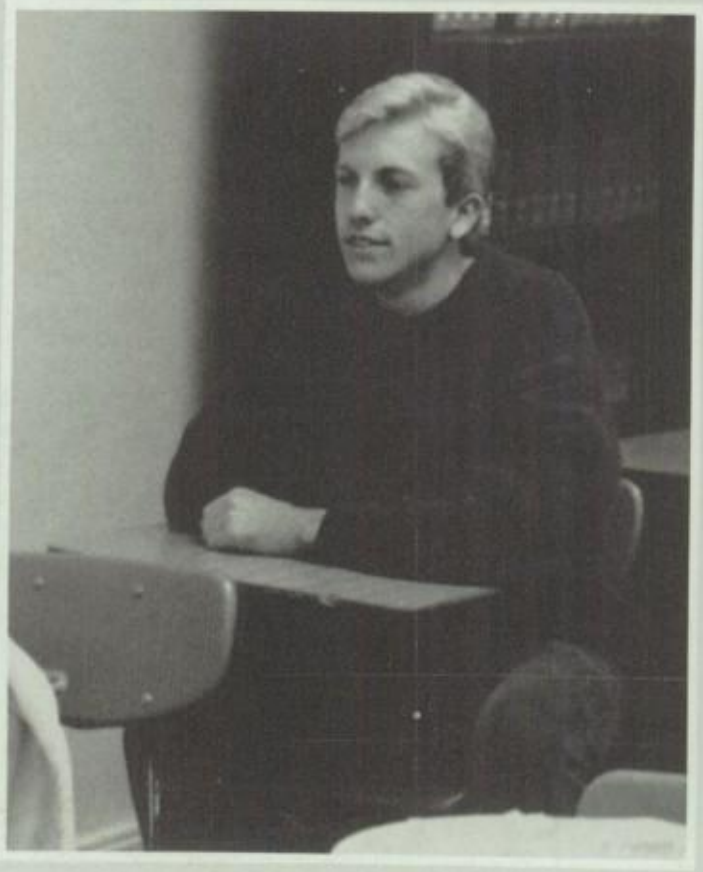
CHANGESCHANGESCHANGES CHANGESC

What would high school be without seniors? It would be pretty boring. Seniors add excitement to the school year and each year the senior life changes. This year the seniors of 1986 were involved, friendly, and able to take CHANGES with ease. Our seniors made this year at BOHS unique as well as fun.



SENIORS!

making changes in the future

Brea saw many changes this year, not only in the appearance of the school but in the class of '87 as well. Gone are the days of freshman frivolity, replaced by the responsibilities of AP classes, college applications and jobs. But the Seniors managed to have fun along the way. The first day of school dawned with a Senior class clad in togas, followed by a Hawaiian Dress up day, complete with a Luau to welcome the football team home from Hawaii. The 18th of every month the Seniors could be seen in a variety of costumes in celebration of their pending graduation on June 18. Under the guidance of class officers, Carol Desborough, Laura Hanes, Marily del Carpio, Debbie Carman, and Theresa Gregory, the year was filled with many new, exciting things never done by a Senior class. 1986-87 saw the introduction of Senior Spirit shirts with the name of every Senior on them and the Senior Video, a videotape taken with a home movie camera capturing the many memories shared by the Seniors. The Class of '87 danced the year away at dances like the winter formal and Prom, then closed the book on four unforgettable years at graduation and the Grad Nite Party at La Mirada Bowl. We learned and shared with smiles and tears as we united together in preparing for our future and for the changes in our lives.

Much of the success of the senior class was due to the hard work of the senior class officers. l to r- Teresa Gregory-treasure, Laura Hanes-Secretary, Carol Desborough-President, Marily del Carpio-Class Rep., Debbie Carman- Vice- President

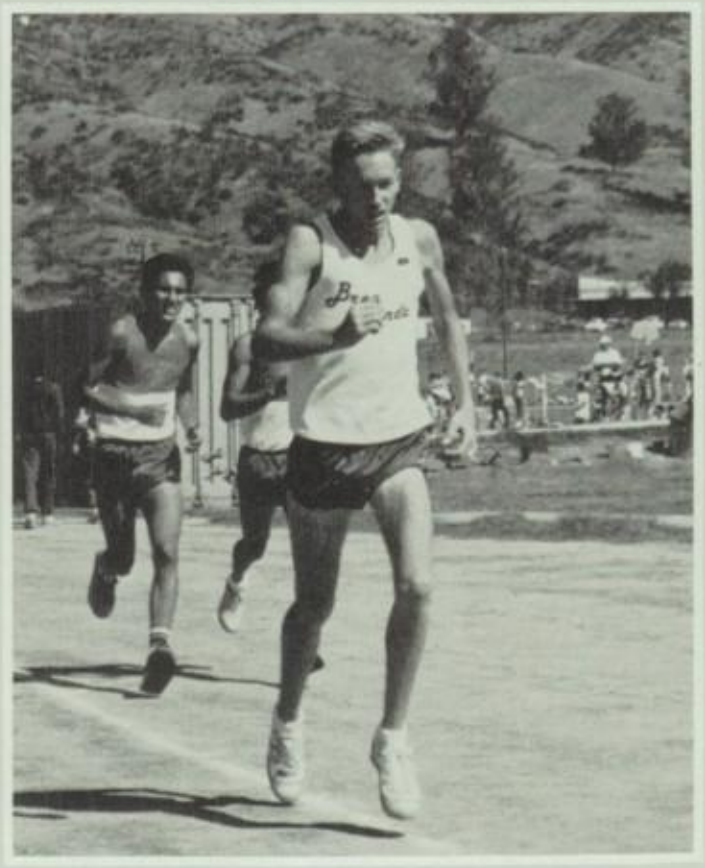
Whether it was scoring the game — winning touchdown or coming in first in the mile run, our school has continued the Brea tradition of excellence in sports during the 1986-87 school year. Athletes both male and female displayed extraordinary talent, sportsmanship, and friendship amongst themselves and with opponents. The 1986-87 athletic seasons used occurring CHANGES to their advantage prevailing as the best once again.



Winning With Determination

Endurance

"Since we are only losing one runner from our top five, there is a really good chance the Boys' Varsity team could win CIF next year."

A very young, but not necessarily inexperienced team found some tough competition this year. However, with the help and leadership of Coaches John Holton and Julie Ream, both Boys' and Girls' varsity teams posted a respectable 4-4 record overall and 2-3 record in Orange League.

Proving himself as a vital member of the team, Brent Jones consistently scored well and as Coach Holton said, "has a good shot at CIF." Other valuable runners include juniors Jay LePage and Paul Giboney, senior David Bailey, and freshman Jeff Sokol. Since only one of the top five runners will be graduating, we can expect a very improved and victorious varsity team next year.

With such young talent as Tracy Tennison, Sandy Tennison, and Laura Bentz, the girls' team disproved overwhelming odds to post an admirable record in a tough Orange League. Furthermore, with the return of the entire girls' team and the addition of new talent, a stronger and well improved team should prove a factor on Orange League next year.

"Frosh/Soph has a good chance of winning league finals," said Coach Holton. Due to the hard work and determination of freshmen Dave Pasino and Tim Kline, the Frosh/Soph team could very well win big in league finals.

Rushing Towards Their Goal

Aggressiveness

"This team showed a lot of spirit both on and off the field. I'm proud of the hard effort which they gave all season long."

Even though their 4-6 record may not have shown it, Brea's varsity gridders consistently played hard and gave their highly ranked opponents a run for their money. "We didn't always win the big games but we were always in them," comments coach Bill Brown. Brea started the season at a distinct disadvantage, returning only four starters. "Inexperience was a big factor. We were limited in what we could do," Brown remarked. But the Cats did get some good performances from their rookies." "We had some really good individual players who did a great job," says Brown, citing Phil Duncan and Russ Barnes, both first-time players, as being prime contributors.

Brea started off the season in Maui, Hawaii, falling to Baldwin Hills. The Cats chalked up wins against Walnut, Sonora, Savanna, and Magnolia while coming up on the short end of the stick against Sunny Hills, Valencia, Western, Anaheim, and Villa Park.

Brea's offense found life in the legs of senior Mike Ozminski, who led the squad in rushing (505 yards), touchdowns (10), and scoring (87 points), and was named Orange League Back of the Year for his efforts. Steve Teran intercepted seven passes while leading the team with 228 yards in receiving. Mike DeClark made life difficult for opposing quarterbacks with 7 sacks while David Ricci recorded 77 tackles.

Todd Carl tries hard to find a hole in the defense.

Many long hours of practice have paid off for this years J/V Football team. Coach Phillips and Coach Roselle are pleased the team played as well as they did. They won almost every one of their ten well played games, which was the result of 33 dedicated boys who wanted to play hard football. Marc Shaw, and Chris Foster, team captains, Jason Marino, a strong ball carrier, and Todd Carl, an overall lead player, helped carry this years team to their great success. One of the key games this year was beating Savanna, 46-6, a game in which all team members got to play. Coach Phillips predicts that with this years varsity players coming back, and these J/V players moving up, the 1987-88 Football team will be unbelieveable.

Wildcat Power

Can't Be Beat

Playing Hard, Frosh Make

Touchdowns!

This year's team is breaking all the records," stated the Freshman Football coach, Ken Lutz. The Freshman had a great year winning almost everyone of their nine games. Chad Marlow, quarter back and team leader, Dwayne Valenzuela, defensive leader, and Scott Coffey, lineman of the year, dominated this years team. These three, along with the rest of the Freshman are extremely talented athletes that know what it takes to work hard and achieve a goal. Along with Coach Lutz, Tom Harrington, John Peppler, and Jose Segura did an outstanding job in helping these kids develop. The turning point of the Freshman's season came after a tough loss to Sunny Hills, when they bounced back and destroyed Savanna 20-0. Coach Lutz thinks that if this team stays together in the program for the next four years, their potential is limitless. He says they have the size, ability, and desire to become CIF contenders, if not champions!

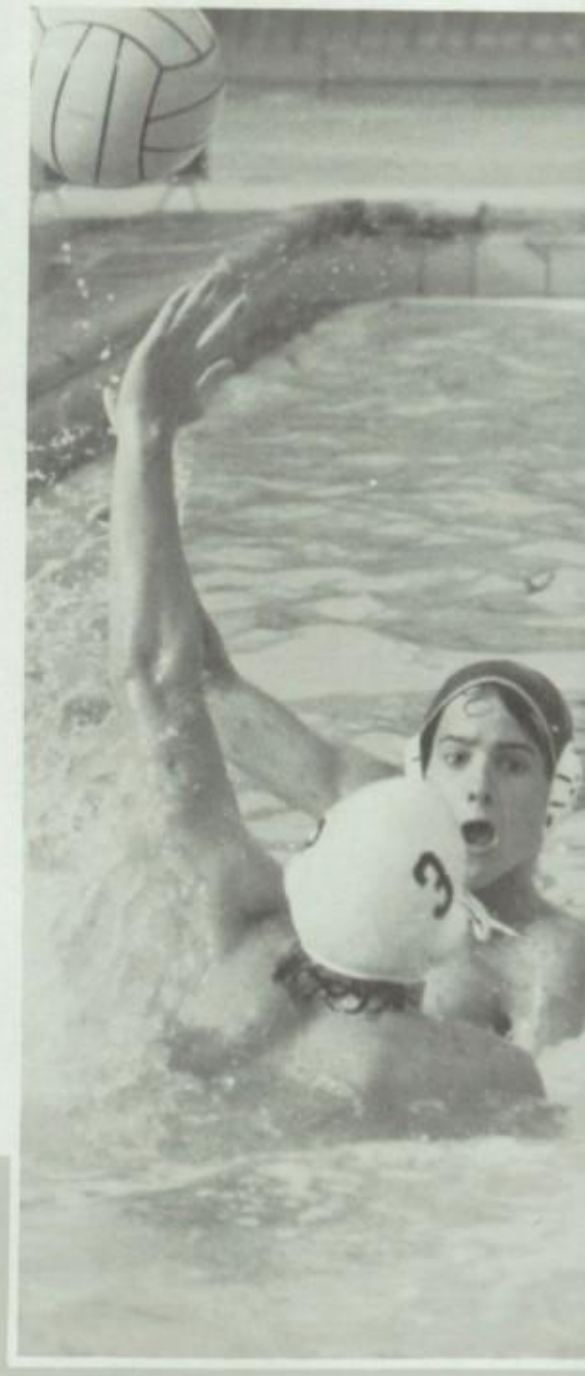
A Team Of True Talent



"The Water Polo team splashed into this season with high expectations and great enthusiasm!"

After a tough pre-season, the Brea Olinda Water Polo team led by co-captains Marc Beck and Kevin Jack fought their way through Orange League with losses only to Magnolia and Valencia High School. Head coach Bob Linn commented that the team had a lot of talent, but couldn't seem to pull the pieces together during the games. But with this talent and determination, they managed to make it to first round CIF. In CIF the team was placed against the fierceful third ranked CIF team of Costa Mesa High School. Although the team gave it a valiant effort, they were smashed by Costa Mesa, 14-4.

At the end of the season, the team had an overall record of 9-11 and an Orange League record of 6-4, placing them in third place.

Although all of the team contributed, there were some leading players most notably Marc Beck, Scott DeBoer, Kevin Jack, and Jon Stockdale in the goal, whose hard work, team spirit and determination helped the team obtain their victories.

According to Coach Linn, the team is expecting a great year next year as only two seniors are leaving, and there will be many returning players to lead them on to victory.

F/S Shows Real Potential

A Good Start

"I think Steve Hurt was a great coach for he evoked a lot of team spirit which helped the team obtain their victories."
-Jeremy Hough

The 1986-87 Frosh/Soph water polo team held together this season to overcome their lack of experience. Although they did not have any strong leaders, the team had a lot of potential. Enough, in fact, to have taken fourth in Canyon High School's Frosh/Soph tournament, defeating Los Amigos and Canyon.

The team did well this year in League, and coach Steve Hurt hopes that they will keep playing to their potential. The Frosh/Soph team underwent many changes, from a new coach to the addition of two girls to the team. Steve Hurt, the new coach, led the varsity team last year, and he was very successful with the Frosh/Soph team this year. Although the two girls, Tangie Gronwall and Suzanne Salazar were new to the sport, they were both a great contribution to the team.

Having a change in coaches and players was a challenge. But with Jeff Anton's speed, Eric Engwall's shooting arm, Jason Oxley's all around ability, and Steve Hilton's natural knack for guarding the goal, this season's Frosh/Soph water polo team was assured of attaining new heights.

"Hmmm . . . not half bad!" decides Jason Oxley.

Serving Up Excellence

Acing League

"In looking back to our teams in past years, I must say this year's team is the best in a long time. It was a fun season with fun people."

The '86-'87 Varsity Girls Tennis Team had an outstanding year. The team finished the season with an outstanding record. Coach Ingrid Wicken felt a little nervous going into the second half of league play. "Most of the girls are seniors, and they're a little tired and into other activities." But this showed school spirit and may have helped them with their back to back wins against Anaheim 15-3 and Savanna 13-5.

The team is very well experienced, with six returning Varsity players, Jeanne Chanawatr, Carol Desborough, Helen Lefton, Lanie Pesicka, Julie Sokol and Christy Walker. The new talent contributed by the new team members, Jody Matthews, Jill Jelinek and Ina Hasdenteufel also helped with the teams success. All of these players held strong against tough opponents like, Valencia and Western.

A top singles performance was given by Laney Pesicka while the doubles teams, Carol Desborough-Jill Jelinek and Jeanne Chanawatr-Ina Hasdenteufel were equally successful.

J.V. Girls Volley Through Season

Exceptional

"All the girls were just great on the courts this year, showing the school that they are as good as any other tennis team."

"We were a real great team as a whole this year!" commented Jeny Amsler about the '86-'87 J.V. girls tennis team. The team showed exceptional abilities against every one of their opponents no matter how good or bad those opponents were. The Brea girl's team fared well against such difficult opponents as Valencia and Western. The team was led by top singles player Jeny Amsler and the top doubles team, Debbie Carman and Mary Byrne. Good showing were also given by freshmen Robyn Desborough and Daryl Reeves, both of whom should return next year to help out either the J.V. or Varsity Girls' tennis team. The team was also assisted by the key players Marnie Aragon, Laura Hanes, Almut Barnstedt, Alexa Farias, and Lisa Finn. Overall the girls J.V. Tennis Team is no exception to Brea's superior athletics qualities.

Talented Team Shows Devotion

Ideal Team Effort

"The team showed great determination through hard work, creating excellent players that give the team a promising future."

The varsity volleyball team put forth a lot of effort this season at games and practices, working on new skills while perfecting old ones with their new coach Ray Thomas. Since this is Thomas's first year here at Brea-Olinda, the team had to adjust to a new coaching technique. But here too they worked hard together, creating great teamwork while doing so. According to coach Thomas, one of their major strategies for winning was their strong defense; one of their weak points, serving percentage. "Our most valuable players," she said, "must be our setters Linda Buck and Melissa Johnson." There are other notable key players that added greatly to the overall performance of this year's team. Among these were returning newcomers Dena Griff and Jill Terry. All around, the team showed great potential by displaying talent and dedication. All the hard work seemed to pay off as the players are now ready and eagerly awaiting next year's season.

Vollying To Victory,

Showing Talent

By encouraging each other, listening to the coaches, and working hard in practice, the '86-'87 JV volleyball team was able to have another great season. Led by Kristen Gibson, team captain, Becky Sanderlin, strong hitter, and Lilly Kachatrian, outside hitter, they were able to improve immensely in all aspects of the game. Coach Janet Kretschmar comments "The team was a great group of girls who were ambitious, determined, and wanting to learn." With a lot of hard work this spring, many of them should contribute to the varsity team next year!

What a year! The Frosh/Soph volleyball team had an outstanding season, with the help of Nancy Chabot, outside hitter, Cheryl Hobart, outside hitter, and Beth Thompson, middle hitter. Because of a great team attitude, never giving up, and always wanting to win, the team was able to defeat almost all their opponents. One turning point, when they beat Magnolia in three long and close games, showed that the players are winners who were willing to fight for every point. Coach Raye Thomas remarks, "All of them are fighters and they won't go down without a battle!" This shows that because of considerable dedication and devotion, next year's JV team should be outstanding!

A Tradition

"This team has shown me alot. We're like one big family, with tremendous experience and talent."

"Cautiously Optimistic" was how Coach Mark Trakh expressed his views of his extraordinary basketball team. He felt the past experience of his girls, and the team unity of the twelve dedicated players were the reasons for the teams overwhelming success. The highlight of their victorious year was the six day New York trip, during the '86 Winter Break. They viewed this as "a fun, learning experience" and a preparation for the upcoming season. There was absolutely no doubt which Ladycat game was the turning point this season. During this fantastic game against Anaheim, All-American forward Carrie Egan broke the Orange County record with a total of 56 points. But that's not all, guard Theresa Cross, went all out to break the National CIF record with 38 assists, which led her to become KABC's Player of the Week. The game ended with a final score of 119-17. Ladycats are currently ranked number one in the 3A division, number three in Orange County, and ended the season with an overall record of (-). This year's team consisted of eight seniors, including captains Carrie Egan, Kristen Mc Phee, and Katy Swain. 6'2" Susan Tousey and guard Kristen Blair, two juniors also contributed to this years starting lineup. Even two Freshmen, Aimee McDaniel, and Tammy Blackburn assisted the team to their dominating victories.

Headed by team captain, Kristin Rex, and all tournament player, Ai mee McDaniel, the Ladycats were able to defeat the Cypress Varsity team and win the consolation in the Garden Grove tournament. Their strengths in rebounding, quickness, and shooting, have enabled them to place first in the Empire League for their fourth consecutive league title. With more hardwork and determination, the J.V. players should have another outstanding season on the Varsity team!!

The girl's Frosh/Soph basketball team brought in the 1986-87 season with a bang!! Led by team captains Gwen Vecchio and Heather Hogelund, the team dribbled to victory. With hardwork and determination they managed to defeat their toughest opponent, Fountain Valley, to win the championship trophy for the Tustin tournament. Now the Ladycats have gone on to greater heights by winning their fifth consecutive Empire League title. The girl's ability and eagerness to play, will make them successful players on J.V. and Varsity in the future, and will help Brea-Olinda stay on top in girl's basketball.

Cats Fastbreak Through League

Hustle

"The work ethic we have is very good. We don't have to rely on one big guy anymore. We have three guys scoring 15 points a game.

1986-87 was a season of change for Brea's varsity cagers, and the squad made the transition well. Armed with a run and gun, offense, and potent half court trap, implemented by first year varsity head coach Rick Jones, the Cats raced to a overall record in Orange League play to capture their fourth consecutive league crown. Brea faced a tough pre-season, playing in three tournaments as well as playing several of Orange County's top twenty teams. The Cats posted a respectable 9-6 mark, but the stat books will show the Cats were in every game. A 17 point loss to Magnolia in the Sonora-Sunny Hills tournament was the only loss greater than four points. Near misses came against such ranked teams as Whittier Christian 65-61 (in the finals of the Brea Tournament), 62-61 to Nogales (in the finals of the Glendora Tournament), and 65-64 to Santa Ana. League play however was a different story. The Cats stormed through the first half of league play with a first place 4-1 record, averaging 72 points per game while yielding only 58. The highlight of the first round was a 73-52 thrashing of Valencia, a team considered to be a league contender.

On the statistical front, Ron Thomas led the Wildcats with a 17.5 points per game average on the year while averaging over 20 in league play to remain among the league leaders. Bob Terry was close behind with 17.5 p.p.g. while grabbing a team-high 8.2 rebounds per game. Point guard Dexter Mumar stepped off the grid-iron into the gym to lead the Cats as well as the county in assists with 10.3 per game. Other starters posting big numbers were Gary Chiotti who, with 12 offensive charges midway through league, seemed well on his way to breaking his own record of 18 set last year, while Mike Thorum spent a considerable amount of time around the hoop, posting a 7.9 r.p.g. mark while making 38 steals.

Hard Work Pays Off In '87

Truly Unique

"The team's outstanding success was due in part to the positive attitude and team spirit."

Desire! Dedication! Endurance! What do these words all have in common? Why, they're all perfect descriptions of the J.V. Wildcats. Last year, under the coaching talents of Phil Henderson, the Wildcats proved to be "truly unique." By posting a 14-4 overall record midway through the season, and taking 4th, 2nd, and 1st place honors in various tournaments, the J.V. Wildcats made the public aware that they were #1.

According to coach, Phil Henderson, the team relied on a fast break offense and pressure defense, which was definitely the main factor of the team's success. Led by starters David Chaffin. Steve Hatchel, David Hole, Keith Walker, and David Dittman, the J.V.'s sparked up the Orange League by obtaining a 5-0 mark half-way through league play.

But it was not the starters alone who made this team so outstanding, for every member on the team sacrificed their own glory for that of the team. The players who did not see a lot of playing time contributed drastically to the team's positive spirit. Perhaps, it was this unified pride which proved the J.V.'s to be #1!

Burning Up The Court

Unstoppable

Starting after the Green and Gold Game, the Sophomore Wildcats burned up the court wherever they went. With 11 wins, two losses, and a tournament championship in pre-league, this hardworking team, lead by the coaching talent of Craig Coleman, went nowhere but up. Defeating Katella and El Modena in the first two rounds of the Sunny Hills Tournament sent the Sophs rocketing into the Championship Game, head to head with the home team. A 47-53 victory and the title of Champions pointed the team on the road to success. After the tournament, the Sophs came home to three consecutive victories over Wilson, Santa Ana, and another over El Modena, foreshadowing a very exciting Orange League Season.

Achieving Excellence

Unbeatable

The '86-'87 Frosh basketball team, led by Coach Chris Duddy, quickly compiled a record to be envied. A team with excellent talent inside and out, they are shoe-ins for this year's Frosh Orange League title. The highlight of their season was a shot at the buzzer in over time by Ed Stewart that fell and gave the Wildcats a win over Mater Dei in the Los Altos tournament. Headed by starters Dennis Chiotti, Carter Kim, Ed Stewart, Jon Kobz, Vince Morales, and Rod Stewart, with David Otto, Kane Tsay, Ivan Yang, Fritz Wickman, Matt Seeland, and John Rex coming off of the bench, this squad was no match for any team it faced. Coach Duddy revealed the cause of the team's success when he said that they were "Hyperactive kids that know how to play basketball."

The Key To Winning Intensity

"If we can keep the level of intensity and emotion, the '86 Wildcat Soccer Team is going to be a very hard team to beat!"

Even though the '86-'87 Varsity Soccer Team had to take their act on the road, playing all their home games at Brea Junior High, the high level of play was still there. The defending CIF champs posted an overall record of 7-0-1 in Orange League play as the Cats captured their fourth straight league title. However, as coach Manny Toledo pointed out, this year's squad had a different and unique style. "Last year we won games in the first 20 minutes; this year we won them in the last 20." One such instance was against Valencia when Brea trailed 1-0 for most of the game before scoring twice in the last five minutes to pull out a 2-1 win. This year's squad was anchored by a strong core of returning players including team captain Ken Claborn, Steve Teran, Mark Dunlap, Matt Swindle, Mike Oziminski, and Jared Burns. "We started off a little slow because we had several key players still in football, but once the fall sports were over, we started picking up." commented Toledo. As has become commonplace, Toledo lined up a tough pre-season schedule to prepare his team for league play. "I was satisfied with our pre-season play. It prepared us well for league," said Toledo.

Clinching Orange League In A Hurry . . .

No Mercy

Led by returning Coach Mike Mc Phee and newcomer first year Coach Charles Irvin the frosh-soph soccer team continued it's winning dynasty by going undefeated in Orange League for the third straight year. Coach Mc Phee commented that the junior high program seems to have helped to improve the team substantially.

Although the team was plagued by injuries stemming from over aggressive play, the team was very well rounded and had an excellent defense. Some of the very notable players were Greg Brunet, at center halfback, Johnny Ebersberger, center fullback, Joe Flanders, right wing and Jeff Bettencourt as goalie. Coach Mc Phee tried to prepare the team for the tough years ahead of them on junior varsity and varsity by giving the players tough workouts with one hour of running, 30 minutes of ball drills, and one hour of tactical drills. The coaches seemed to agree that it had been a great year for the team.

The strong defense of Brea's Junior Varsity Soccer Team made it another league winning league year. The team had hopes of winning league and took part in gruelling workouts every day to make sure they made to the top. Their basic stragedy was to keep on the offensive but the other team's couldn't break through Brea's uncrackable defense. "The highlight of the season came when we crushed Anaheim" exclaimed Coach Jim Rummel. Some of the strongest players were John DeCriscio, the top scorer and leading offense man, Chris Foster was the most valuable on defense and Dan LaFrance kept the goal clean of the opposing team's balls. Coach Rummel also added that everyone on the team had a great year and that everyone should be on the varsity team next year.

Determination

"The girls united with hard work, cooperation and teamwork, which helped them to go further then they have before."

What brings together a brutal physical sport with a feminine touch? Brea-Olinda GAA Soccer, of course. A large number of factors, prove that many great advances were made this year from years before. There were a larger number of girls who came out to participate and kick that ball around. Teamwork developed a close bond among all the players and a variety of skills contributed a well-rounded team. Let us not forget, Pam Bickel, Varsity Coach, and Janet Rumell, J.V. Coach, who got their players into shipshape ready to take on anything, even the world. Their main goal was for their outstanding team to be the first to make it to CIF. The whistle blows. Beep . . . Beep . . . Beep. The alarm goes off and the clock reads 5:15. You stumble out of bed into the bathroom where you splash water on your face! You're then at least half awake, get on your suit, grab a towel or two and it's off to morning workout at 5:45. You go reminding yourself that you still have practice after school. Now what kind of people subject themselves to this sort of torture? The 1986-87 Brea-Olinda Wildcat boys' swimteam, of course! Under the supervision of Coach Bob Linn and the instruction of Coach Will Ramsey the team got off to a great start. The Varsity team captured first place at the Orange League Relay Competition and later savored a fourteen point victory over the tough Sunnyhills High School team. Although their numbers were lower than in previous years, the Varsity and Frosh/Soph teams maintained that high spirit and drive to compete. At the time of this article six swimmers had already qualified for CIF: Brad Valentine, Jeff Anton, Kevin Jack, Marc Beck, Scott DeBoer, and Erin Dunn, and looking strong and hopeful were Ray Schwengel and Jason Oxley. Each swimmer felt that the team was strong and would be strong competition when CIF rolled around. This positive attitude proved to be most valuable to this team's stroking to the top as was the support of all the enthusiastic BOHS fans. Thank you, boys, for the fun and fast-paced year. You proved truly hard to beat!

"This team is all fired up and ready to go . . . we should claim the CIF Championship once again!"
Varsity team member

"Swimmers, take your mark . . ." and the gun goes off with a bang, and so did your 1986-87 girls' swim-team. They caught the wave last year and took it all the way to win CIF! And they were catching it again this year as they captured first place another consecutive year at the Orange League Relays Competition. At the time of this article the girls had won all their meets so far including a stunning victory over the stiff competitors at Sunny Hills High School. As usual, the girls were strong in numbers, enthusiasm, style, and speed. Already ten of these super swimmers had qualified for CIF: Jennifer Niblick, Mary Byrne, Suzanne Schwengel, Keri Brown, Denise Weber, Muriel Bruno, Tammy Flores, Monica Fay, Monika Schoeffler, and Robin Palmero. Most of the strength and experience of the Varsity team came from those swimmers swimming on year around teams outside of school and the depth and numbers from those who swam only at school. On the J.V. team there was a lot of talent also coming from teams outside of school such as Tanya Beck, Jennifer Watkins, and Wendy Winslow and others such as Ina Hasdenteufel and Amy Hess. "With all of our strength and numbers we should claim the CIF Championship once again!" exclaims one varsity team member, "We are all fired up and ready to go!" Fired up is right, these Wildcats had another great year and the rest of us congratulate them on their triumphs.

Taking The Opponent To The Mat

Aggressiveness

I have a lot of pride, and I'm amazed by the level of team spirit and the aggressiveness that the wrestlers showed. We did surprisingly well for a young team.

Hard working aggressive wrestlers helped to make Brea a winning year. The team started on a good foot by winning the Brea five way and finishing third in the invitational. With determination, they also defeated rival Sonora. Although the head coach, Ken Lutz, and assistant coaches, Gordon Allred and Cory Oldroyd, looked upon the young and inexperienced wrestlers and declared it a year of rebuilding, there were a few veterans and some excellent wrestlers; notably, captains Mike Powell and Doug Synder, Joey Soto in the middle weights and Rob Moore and Eric Aulls. Another leading wrestler was Jon Raymond whose physical style tore up opponents.

Next year, the team is looking forward to continual improvement and adding a lot more wrestlers to the program. With that and the hard work and dedication on the part of the wrestlers Brea should be back on top next year.

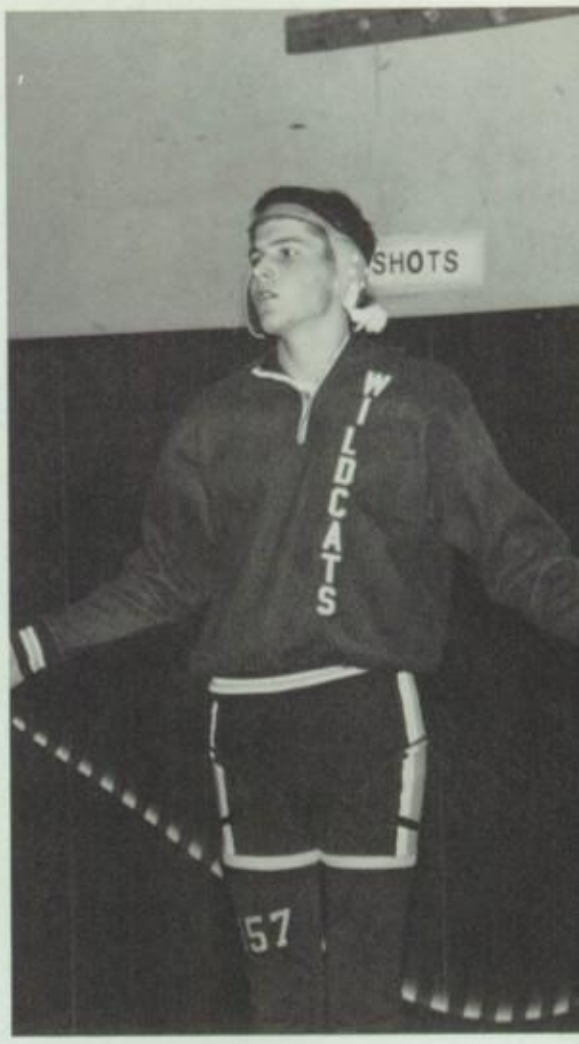
Pin to Win



"Many of the J.V. players sparked a new image with desire to be the best that they can be."

With a lot of hard work and determination, the Junior Varsity wrestlers proved that hard work does pay off. The wrestlers looked at a year of rebuilding and beginning a new season with many new and inexperienced athletes putting the wrestlers into a challenging situation. But they seemed to prove the odds wrong by having victories against Sonora, Brea's own crosstown rival, and by placing 3rd in the Brea Invitationals. Such wrestlers as Hector Soto, Scott Gelb, and David Holmes, who all helped to bring about an undefeated streak of seven straight dual matches in a row, helped spark a new image; a desire to be the best they can be. Through all their rough and tough work, the J.V. team as a whole sought to fulfill team goals, set by each individual and the team as one. Working hard for a possible position on the Varsity wrestling team next year helped in the motivation of them all.

Motivation

"A great attitude and a willingness to work hard sums up this team. We have fun together, and we're GREAT!!"

The adversity of not having a track was the biggest problem this years Co-ed Track team had to try and overcome. However, this proved to be absolutely no problem at all. Winning races and scoring points in all events seemed to be the only thing on these amazing athletes minds.

The boys team, under the leadership of Coach John Holton, continued to amaze family, friends and fans as they had in their past successful years at Brea. Acording to Coach Holton, the teams consistency was smaller than normal but he was positive they would perform to their ability, and easily match last years unbelieveable records. Many top quality boys were spread out over several events, which Holton believed would give other schools some extremely tough competition. With many returning players, and a lot of skill in distance events, the boys track was expected to easily defeat Valencia and Western, who would be their toughest league opponents. Brent Jones, leading distance with unbelievable records in the 880 mile and 2 mile runs, was just one of the remarkable talents displayed on this years team. Other top runners included Dave Bailey and Rob McDaniel in 440m relay, and Seals McCarty in the 440r relay and 220. Scott Bissonnette also lead the team with some unbelievable High Hurdles which was one of the teams best field events.

This years Girls track team, under the Coaching of Julie Ream, also amazed their peers. They came off strong in field events, while they did nothing but improve in the area of distance running. The returning runners and the many excelling newcomers, were eager to run and learn new events. These talented girls, led by captains Kelli Cornwell and Jill Murray, worked together successfully to achieve the team effort they needed to out run their competition. Savanna and Valencia would be their toughest meets, but with these close-knit, dependable girls, this year would prove to be one of the best ever. All in all, the only thing coach Ream could say about her wonderful team was, "This team has heart!"

Tumbling To Success

Competitive

"I expect to have the best 2-0 team since Brea started gymnastics because of our extremely talented gymnasts and our optional routines."

The Brea Gymnastics Varsity team was the defending 3-A Southern California Champions and Orange League Champions. Tracy Valko was the defending Orange League Gymnastic champion and Tamara Swindle lived up to her expectations of placing high in the 1987 competitions. The team finished in first place in Orange League and remained the Southern California champs, as coach Hampton expected.

Mrs. Hagstrom, the coach of Brea's J.V. Gymnastics team, expected to have the best 2-0 team since Brea started gymnastics and the team lived up to her expectations. Jill Jones was Hagstrom's best all-around gymnast and Janine Biggy also played a large part in the teams success because of her strength in all areas. The team was strongest on floor and bars, yet they did well on vault and beam. The talented gymnasts were a key factor to the team's success along with the team's optional routines instead of the traditional compulsory routines. Hagstrom felt that this really showed a strong gymnast. The team excelled a lot since they changed to optional routine's showing that they had a very talented and capable team.

Swinging Up To Par

Impressive

"This team could take the Orange League Championship this year, and we have some strong CIF material."

Lead by a new coach, Gary Humphrey, a golf professional from San Diego, the Brea Olinda High School golf team was off to a strong start for the 1987 spring season. The team consisted of three seniors, three sophomores, and a variety of freshmen, so the 1987 season was one of building a strong, young group. Some of the top players were Jeff Banks, Kenny Claborn, Kevin Claborn, and Brian Daucher. According to Brian Daucher, "This team could take the Orange League Championship this year, and we have some strong CIF material." Among the many school teams which the golfers competed against were those from Savannah, Western, Valencia, and Anaheim. Birch Hills was the golf team's home base, and the players could be seen improving their putting skills and trying to rid themselves of those bothersome slices and hook shots almost every weekday afternoon.

Brea Has A Raquet For Winning

Advantage

"Overall, this year's tennis team will do well because of sound fundamentals and hard work."

This year's tennis teams changed the course of Brea Olinda High School history. With teamwork and determination, the teams had the chance to go all the way to CIF. The varsity key players, John Zajc, Brent Ofenstein, Alan Reyes, and Ron Hurst helped the team place high in the league. Coach J. P. Oziminski felt the team's positive attitude and consistent playing skills made things come together. Coach John Salvador felt the J.V. players started their season with a winning attitude and a united spirit. This year's young team had a great desire to win, and the individual players practiced diligently. Essential players John Kim and Robert Chu gave momentum to the team. Both groups overcame their tough opponent Valencia, and went farther than before toward a championship season.

A Clear, Positive Attitude

BOHS Hitmen

"The team is working on a positive mental attitude every day to have it carry over into ballgames."

With the Orange League basically up for grabs, the Wildcats had their work cut out for them in terms of competition this year. Carried through the year by the hot bats of Greg Quiring, Mike Oziminski, and Jim Murray, the Wildcats, under the direction of Steve Hiskey once again made a mark in the Orange League by starting out 2-0.

The Wildcat's defense also was superior. Backed up by the catching talents of Greg Quiring, one of the best catchers in Orange League, was essential, for Quiring worked well with the pitchers and team all through the year. Starting pitchers Jim Murray and Gary Chiotti provided the spark for the team, while Shon Riley, Mike Oziminski, and Jim Hudak could be counted on all season to finish the game up. An experienced infield also drastically helped, for they were all familiar with each other and definitely displayed this talent by their defensive plays.

Intensity, however, played the greatest role in the team's success. According to pitcher Jim Hudak, "The team came out in high spirits and played that way from start to finish." With Orange League being so balanced, intensity was bound to be the key factor in determining the outcome of league play.

Striving For Success In '87

Awesome

Well-rounded defensive talent and an offensive battery talent that couldn't be stopped made this year's JV baseball team strive for the top seat in Orange League. Having a successful pre-season, the JV Wildcats went into league with high hopes and even higher expectations. Led by coach Steve McGee, a two-year player in the Oakland A's organization, the team has matured, coming back from a very bad freshman season into a highly talented baseball team. The members are looking to bring an Orange League championship to Brea this year.

Starting pitcher Chad Marlow throws a strikeout versus the El Dorado Hawks.

First baseman Brian Hudson studies the pitcher's technique and awaits his next at-bat.

This year's Frosh/Soph baseball team was probably one of the best Brea Olinda has ever had. Sweeping both of their double-headers in pre-season and winning their first two games of league play, this team carried high hopes and dreams. With excellent offensive talent and defense just as good, this team hopes to be the Frosh/Soph Orange League Champs. Although playing home games at Fanning Elementary School, they did not let the field's condition come between them and their winning attitude. With any luck, this young team will have an Orange League Championship this year.

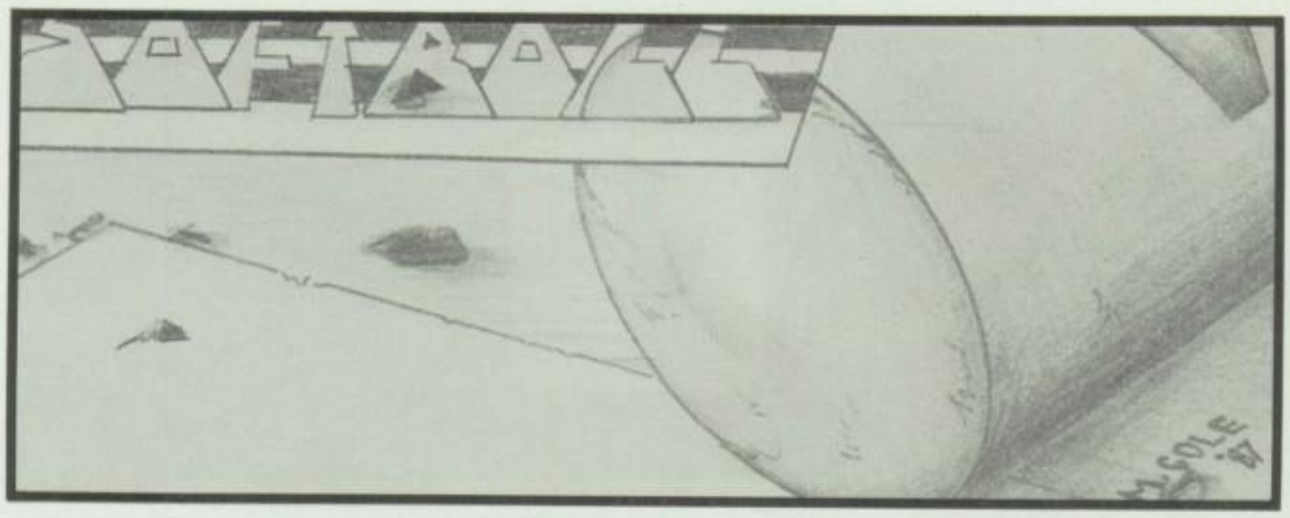
Swinging For The Fences



Their On Their Way

Winning

"This years team proved to be a lot more talented then expected, even though we lost nearly all of our players last year."

It's a cold windy day and the score is 7-6, Brea's advantage. There's one out to go. The bases are loaded and the count is full. The "ladycats" wait the pitch from their starting pitcher Kelly Cook on the varsity softball team. Tensions high! The pitch is gone, what a beauty, directly over the plate, the batter swings hard and strikes out. The team rejoices, running toward the center of the field to congratulate one another.

Does this sound a bit familiar? It should, because the majority of the strenuous games played by our girls softball teams ended in "close-calls." The teams spirit and determination helped them to victory.

Each team as you know is supported by a strong inspiring coach. For the Varsity team, Coach Caperton and Coach Garrett combined their knowledge and know-how from past experience to make a hard working dedicated team.

As "Senioritus" came out and their last year at Brea were coming to an end, Seniors, Beth Breen, Tracy Guy, Tina Deluca and Katy Swain allowed nothing to stop them in their quest to make their Senior year the best ever.

Other varsity players new and old came back and helped bring about a successful year for them all.

As for the younger talented Junior Varsity team, which proved all odds against them as a new team wrong, winning seemed to be the key word to explain their dedicated talents. With not only new players but new coaching by Coach Davis and Coach Thomas, they worked together and concentrated on a new team goal that kept them going strong.

With a chance at making it for varsity next year, returning players Shawn Jones, Carlotta Krueger, Christine Morton, Debra Green and Misty Coffey, struggled hard against their new talented teammates. But it wasn't long until the team played as one showing the coaches that "new" teams aren't always bad.

The show-up of over forty girls for this years softball season made things difficult for coaches and teammates but after their struggles and hardships of making it, our Brea softball team showed that their on their way to the Top! Watch Out!

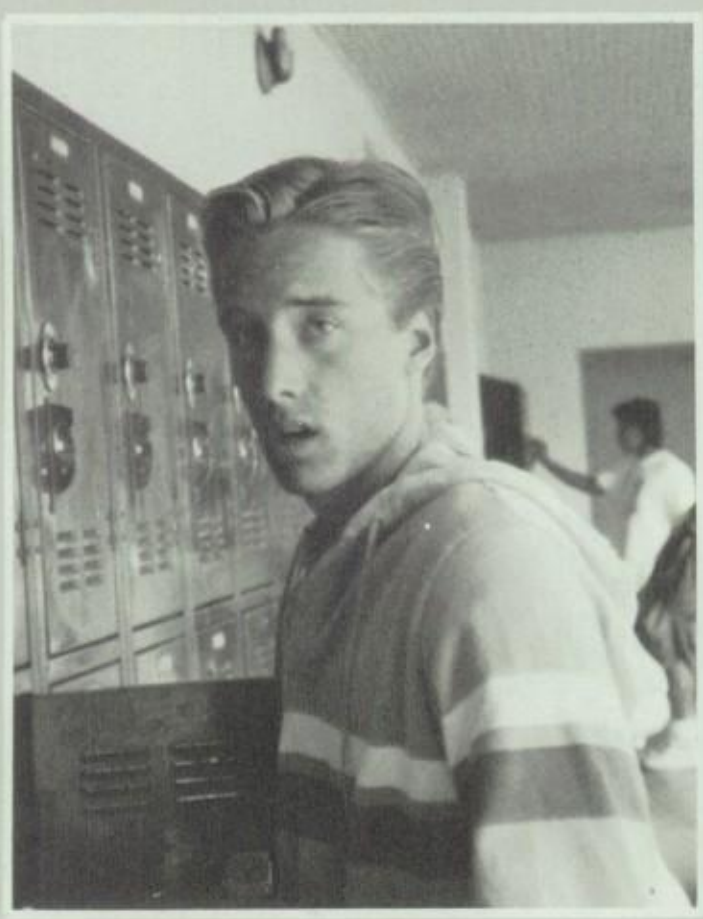
CHANGESCHANGESCHANGESCHANGESC

Being wrapped up in organizations, sports, or extra curricular activities, Brea students had the opportunity to grow into well-rounded people and were offered more than just academics. School life was more energetic for those who wisely chose to be involved in the especially lively and innovative dances. For those who knew how to ski, the slopes were another point of attention and busied students with more things than just books. By working together in a variety of activities, students at Brea Olinda broadened their friendships, vision, and experience.



Girls Of The Month: Rising To The Top

She may be a straight A student a vivacious cheerleader, the power behind the Varsity basketball team, or perhaps a strong leader in the community. Maybe her expertise lies in the field of school politics, competitive speaking, or her talent is in her efficiency. This girl, whoever she may be, is a Girls' League Girl of the Month, a Senior girl who displays extraordinary character and an excellent performance in the areas of leadership, academic achievement, and school and community service.

This year Brea Olinda High School's Girls' League has presented a yellow rose to the nine Senior girls who the faculty felt were the most worthy of this honor, and at the Mother Daughter Social held in May, Girls' League further honored Julie Sokol, who was selected as the 1986-87 Girl of the Year. Congratulations to all of those girls selected who constructively used their time to illustrate a fine example for others, and who have laid the foundation for a prosperous future.

Julie Sokol

The 1987 Girl of the Year award was presented to Julie Sokol. Her involvement in the school and community displays her exceptional leadership ability. Serving as ASB's School Board Representative, as a member of the Varsity Tennis team, and as President of Girls' Athletics were only a few of her many school contributions. Julie's outstanding character shines through in all of her numerous achievements and is reflected by its influence on her many friends. Success is just around the corner for the 1987 Girls' League Girl of the Year.

Our preference tells a great deal about the people we are and the things we really like to do. Each of us has something that we really love the most. This year's Senior Class poll demonstrates a few of our favorites, ranging from colleges to actors. They each tell a little bit more about our Senior Class, and in the years to come we will remember these favorites as memories, whether they were all of our personal favorites, or not.

Fabulous Fads:

Fantastic Fashions

The 501 Blues hung over the campus. A flash of gold and silver hit the scene. A fringe boot kicked up a cloud of dust. The sun began to set, and the winds whistled. Does this sound like a scene from some off the wall science fiction/western movie? If so, think again! This scene takes place, at yes-you guessed it, our very own Brea-Olinda campus. As far as the eye can see, fads and fashions stretched across B.O.H.S.

From the traditional letterman's jacket to the punk and funk of gold lamé, with time fashion changes. Some were more daring than others and strutted on by wearing a silver top with a silver belt, of course a silver purse, and to accent this ensemble, a definite must, silver shoes. On the flip side of the coin, is the more conservative, wearing softer colors with a touch of lace. Of course, there were always our old favorites with a new twist. Blue jeans were no longer just blue. There were faded jeans, black jeans, white jeans, red jeans, green jeans, peach jeans, pink jeans and even yellow jeans. Swatches were still with us and ticking on strong. Reeboks were everywhere to be seen, especially the black hightops running up and down stairs and across campus.

Everyone seemed to be in tip-top shape this year, as usual, starting with the tips of their hair which were streaked blonde, black, blue, burgundy, silver and orange. Hairstyles varied from long to short to curled to straight to layered to frizzed and even to sleek. Fergie bows and banana clips were used to hold back all those loose locks. And the creme de la creme of the hairworld, was the crimped look.

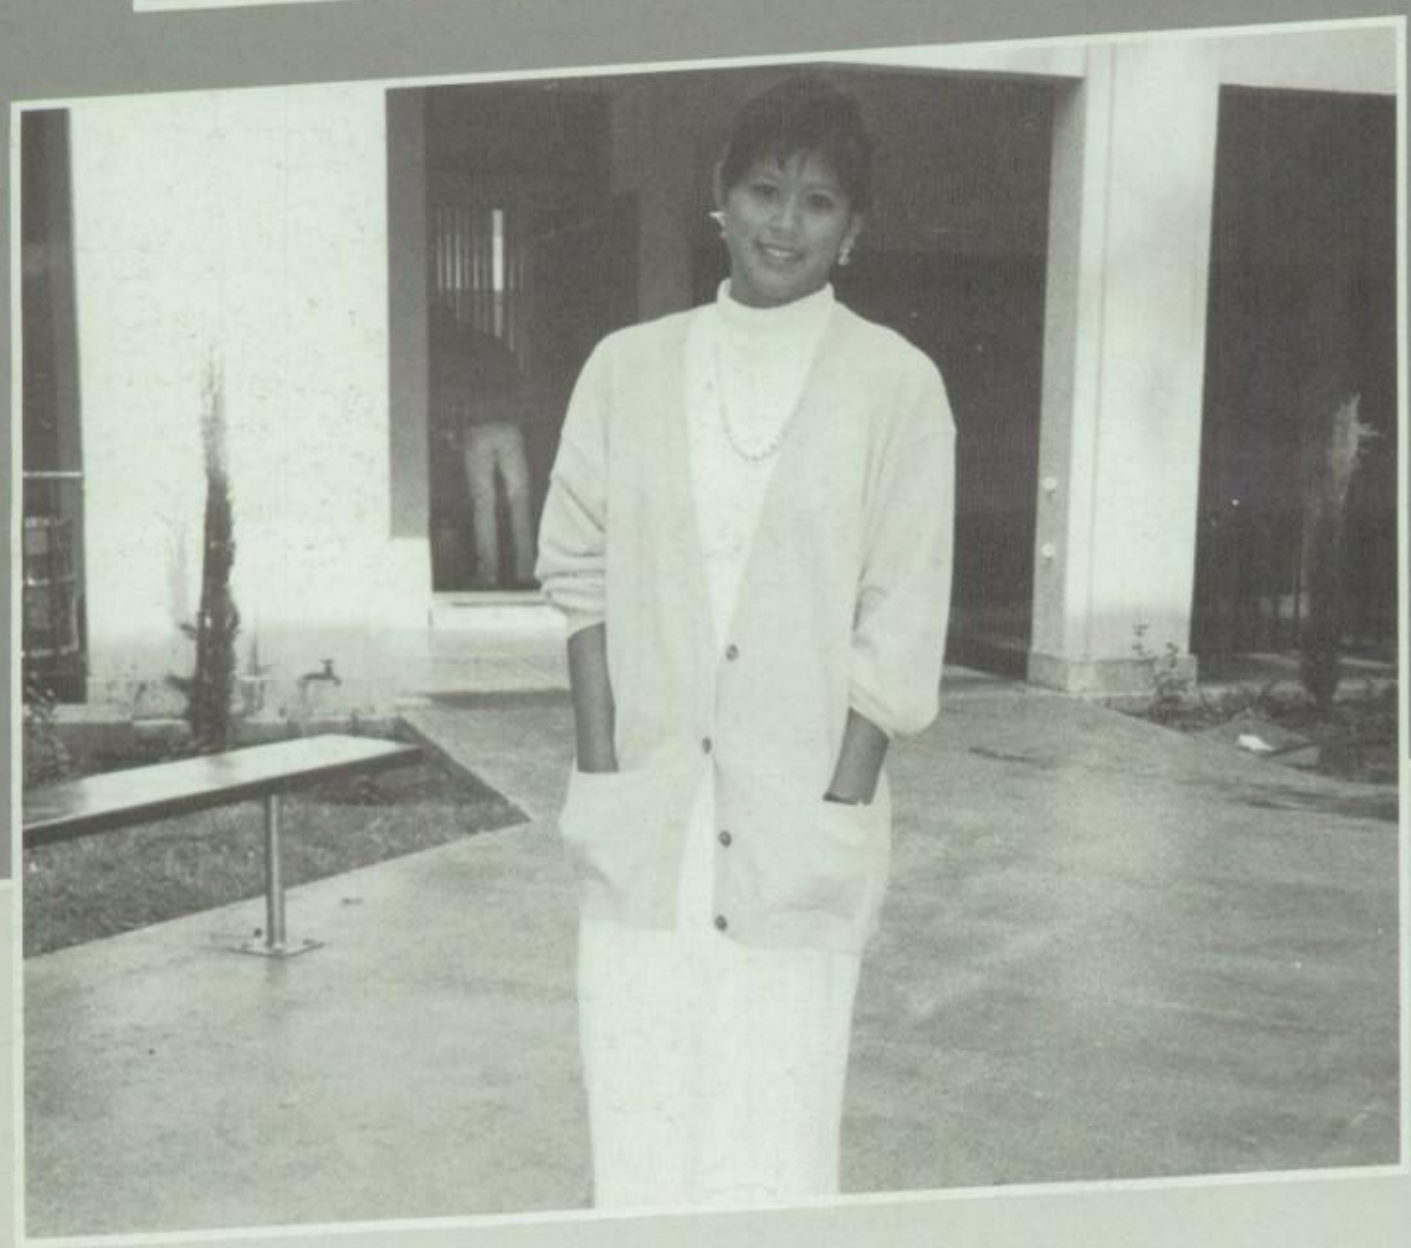
People were seen dressed casually in comfy Out Back Red shirts, a pair of baggy pants, and a purse which carried the motto, "The Bigger The Better!" If you wanted to add a little pizazz to your wardrobe, leather was definitely the ticket. A little fringe and a western touch, updated the look for the leather jacket which was one of the hottest fashions on campus.

Orange and red painted the sky. In the distance, a siloutte could be seen of one of the most sizzling items of the year, a sleek fitting leather skirt slithering from side to side.

Robert Chu caught in the ever popula coat.

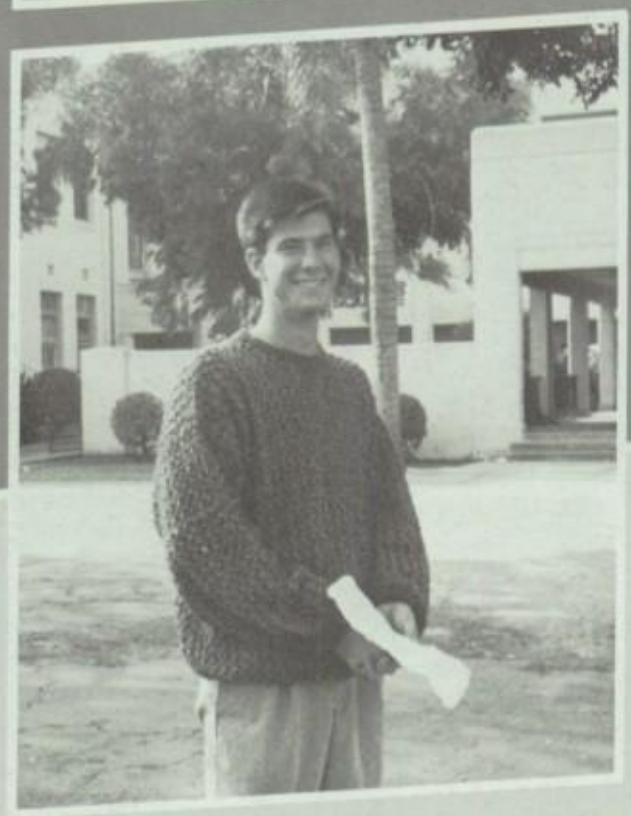
Jeanne Chanawatr shows the cloth wore when Vogue magazine took her for next month's issue.

Yes, it's true! Even freshman dress wit



Wearing an oversized jacket and cobra necklace, Brandi Anderson displays the popular "tailored" look.

Saadia Billman is often seen around campus in fashionable clothes and wearing a big smile.



Jason Williams knows that a hat always adds the finishing touch.

Terence Offenberger, Jon Forquer, and Jeff Hutcherson stop for a moment to show off their fashions and ponder the thought of rebellion.

Rob Mc Daniel poses in his sweater, which is always a popular fashion.

"Almost Paradise" Was A Slice Of Heaven

A note. A beat. A hand and foot in sync. A sound. The pound of music filled the ears. A move. A sway. The rhythm took the night away. A feeling of INTENSITY filled the cool refreshing air!

A slice of heaven was found at the Co-ed Dance which was considered by most to be "Almost Paradise." "Almost Paradise" just happened to be the theme for this 1987 dance which was held at the Plaza de Cafe over in Newport Beach on March 14. Members of the Girls' League cabinet worked for months prior to the dance preparing reservations for the location, music, and food. They wanted to create an atmosphere of excitement and romance, which they once again achieved successfully.

Co-ed is yet another girl-ask-guy dance, with a special flare of pizazz! The blue and green balloons, with a touch of silver here and there, floated into the night air. The dance itself, sparkled with magic, spreading laughter which bubbled wonderfully like champagne (Of course, we really mean Martinelli's!) to all who attended. "The whole night from beginning to end was a lot of fun! Everyone seemed to enjoy himself, and I felt like I was almost in paradise." stated Julie Sokol with a smile slipping from her lips. "Energy was spewing everywhere!! I really had a fantastic time," exclaimed Jaush Way. Sharon Mariner voiced with a gleam in her eye, "As a senior, this was my last Co-ed, and I really had a great time!! The deejays kept us jammin' with their great music and great looks". These were just a few of the comments that were made by those who had attended and had a terrific time.

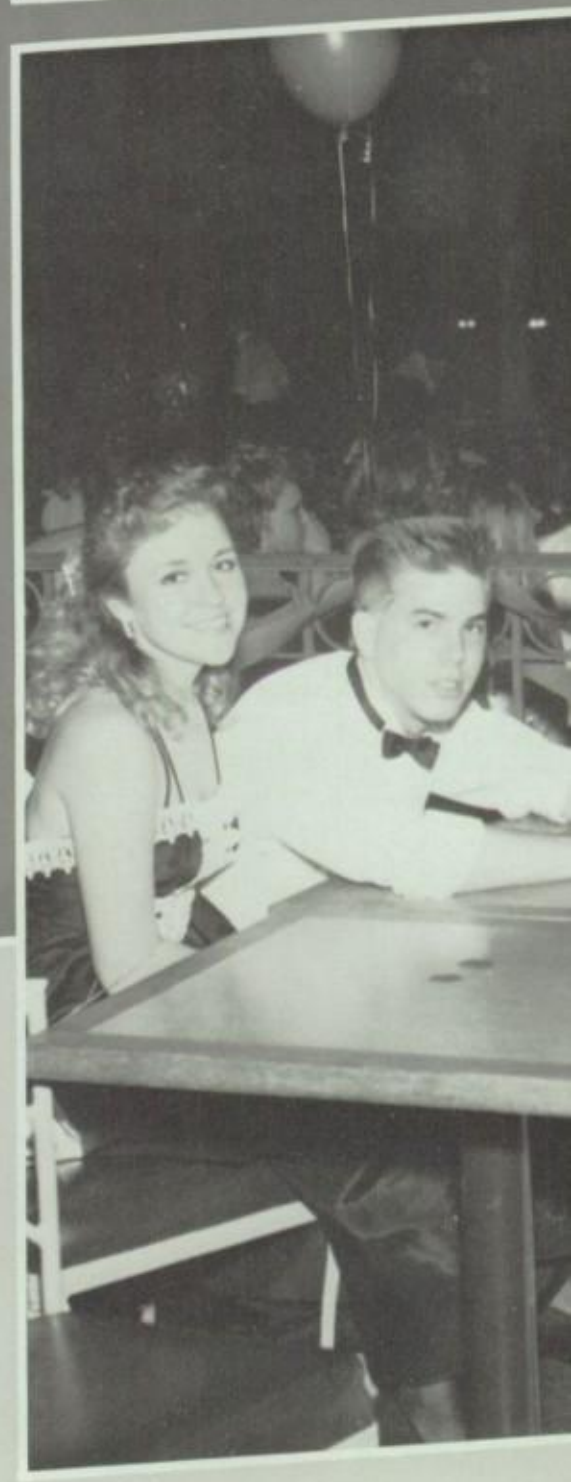
The stars shone brightly, and the moon hung high. The rain sprinkled, and the couples let out a sweet sigh.

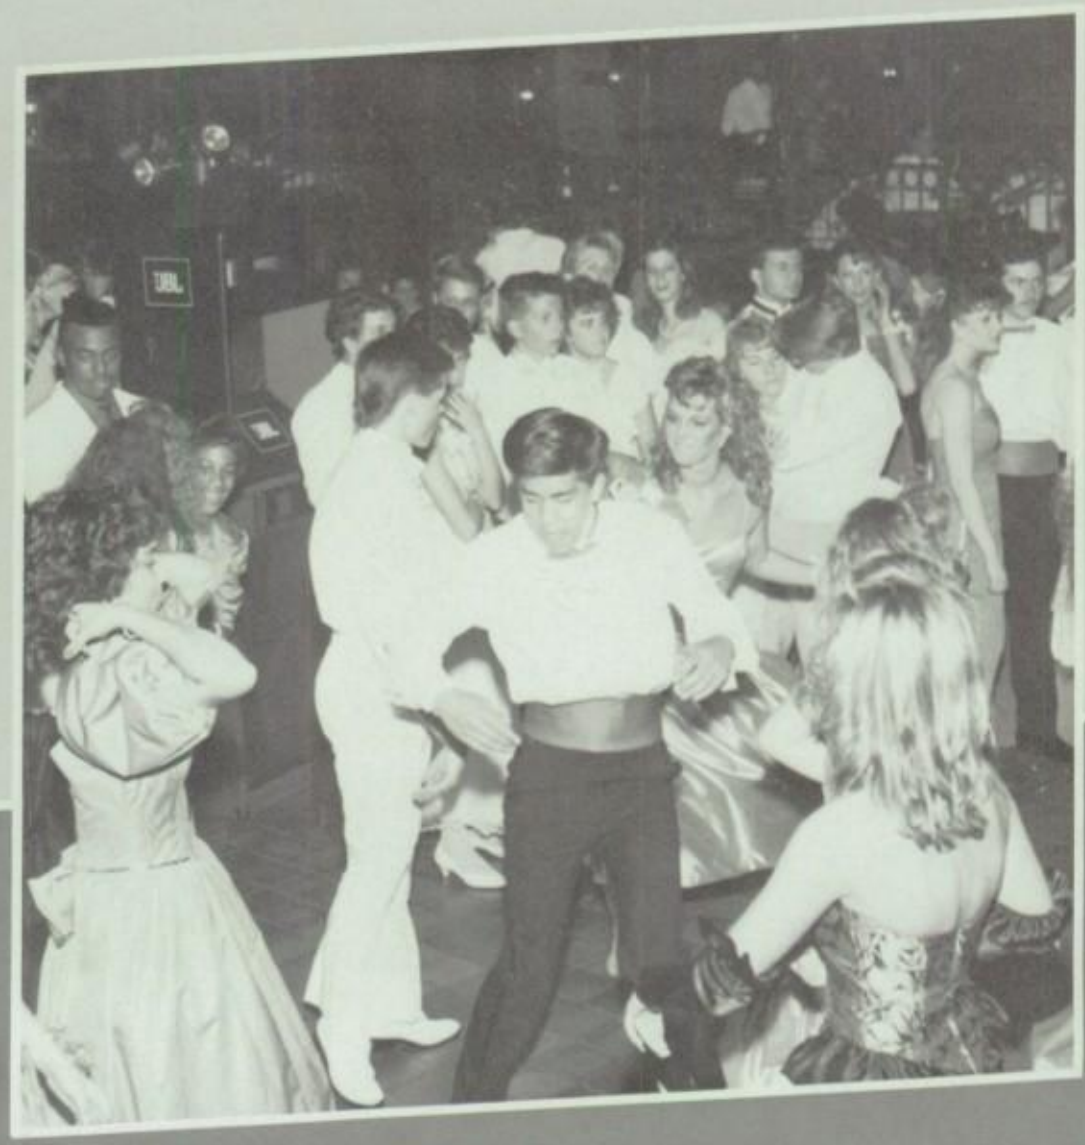
Natalie Stevens and her escort sway to the tender music of "Take Your Breath Away."

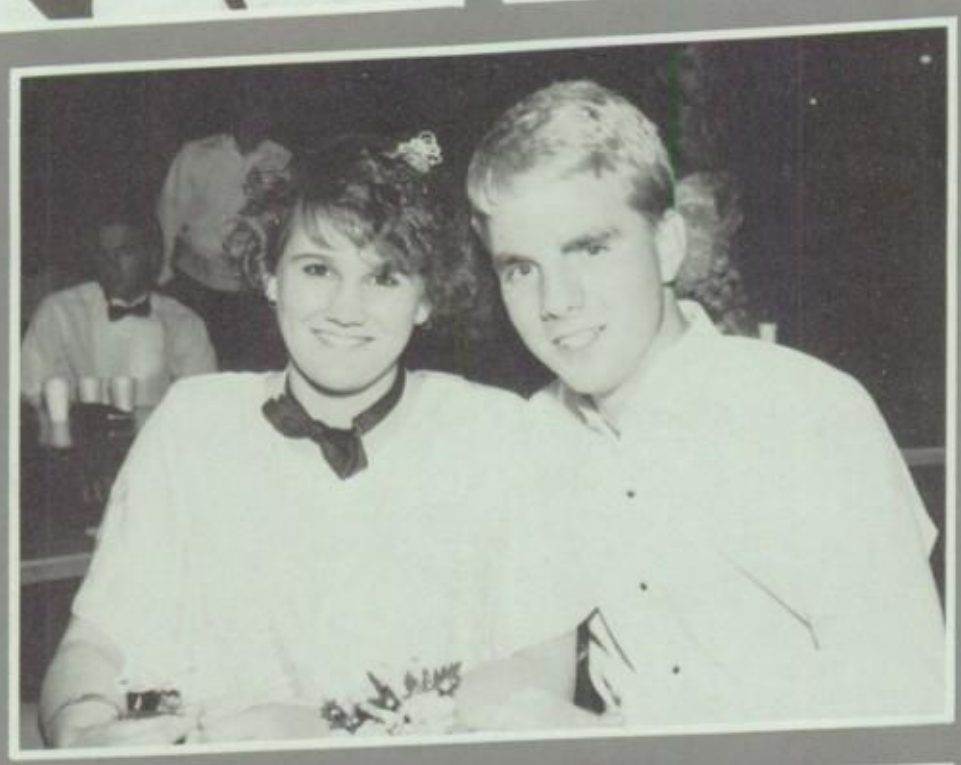
David Morrill and his date take a moment to rest their weary feet from dancing.

Shana Curry and Kara Clizbe turn and twist to show their enthusiasm in the dance competition.

As the dance floor began to overflow, we see couples who had moved to a nearby table to chit chat.







Fun and games are found at the Co-ed, as Suzie Michaels playfully teases a friend.

Everyone had a great time letting loose and dancing the night away.

Jenny Niblick and her date smile their pearly whites, while they take a moment out to relax.

Terry Dial sits on her date's lap because there just doesn't seem to be enough chairs to go around.

Swing On Down

To The Sadie's Hoedown

Swing your partner round and round! This was the girls' once in a lifetime chance to drag their favorite guy down to the Sadie Hawkins Hoedown. The dance was held on Nov. 15, right here on our own Brea-Olinda campus. From 8 P.M. to 12 P.M., couples danced the night away, raising a howl and a hoot. Shawn Friddle exclaimed, "I had a fantastic time at the dance because there were so many different things to do this year!"

It is traditional for most couples to dress alike, as they did this year. "We had a great time. It was so much fun seeing all of our friends dressed up like hill-billies," commented Danelle Turner and Jodi Schlessel with a twinkle in their eyes at the rememberence of the night. The dance floor was covered with ten little Indians and a whole lot of pilgrims.

Some couples decided to tie the knot and go get hitched, while others were thrown into the county jail due to some rowdy misbehavior. For ya'll who was a little shy or just liked the quieter side of events, the waterin' hole offered some thirst quenching refreshment.

The Sadie Hawkins Dance was sponsored by G.A.A., which used the money raised to buy athletic equipment throughout the year. The Sadie's was also a great fundraiser for each of the individual classes who sponsored a couple.

All in all, the whole event provided wispful memories and new-found friends. A favorite among all, the Sadie Hawkins Dance left everyone with a smile on his face.

Julie Sokol and Krissie Reading announce the 1986 Sadie's couple.

Advisor of GAA, Sharon Caperton boogies to the music of the hoedown.

"Are you sure you want to pay that much for a picture?" exclaims Robin Palmero to her date Adam Stoerck.

Jim Esquivel looks depressed as Kelly Cook tells him the honeymoon only follows a "real" wedding.

Winter Semi-Formal Was Truly "A Royal Affair"

While the thermometer dipped to 40 degrees outside, things were plenty hot inside Griswolds as Brea couples danced the night away at the 1987 Winter Formal, which was truly a "Royal Affair." Although it was a semi-formal, guys opted to go all out and sported tuxes, while several girls fashioned formals. KROQ D. J. John Brinkman, kept the couples dancing all night with tunes ranging from "You Be Illin'" by Run D.M.C. to "Next Time I Fall in Love" by Peter Cetera. "Brea people are just party animals," commented Brinkman, whose popularity at the school ensured that he would be seen and heard at several more dances. There was a temporary break in the action around 10 P.M. as Winter Formal King Jim Hudak was crowned. Members of his court included Ron Thomas, David Bailey, Dexter Mumar, Scott Anderson, Mark Dunlap, Brady Russell, and Gary Chiotti. "I was definitely very surprised," said King Jim. "I was just happy to be nominated." Things finally wound down around midnight (at the dance, that is!) but the couples need only look at their custom-made key chains, souvenirs of this "Royal Affair", to remind them of the evening.

Arts And Literature

New to the yearbook this year is an innovative section entitled, Arts and Literature. These pages were limited to short prose, poetry, photographs, and artwork. All of these works were emitted by students attending Brea. Art and literature are not only entertaining, but are also important to every day life. They show a reflection of society- what people like, what people dislike, what people strive for, and what people live for.

Art such as this was exemplified by the late Andy Warhol and literature by the great William Shakespeare. These pieces of literature as well as these works of art are dedicated to the remembrance of the artists of the past who have passed away and left us their works to enjoy and admire.

SAD SONGS

Pulling out emotions from deep inside.
You may not know it, but they are there and they hide.
Sad Songs of love draw these tears.
I never imagined I had them until I had something to fear.
The fear of loosing that special girl I adore,
The one I'd give and do the best for.
She may not be so special to others who see,
But they don't know the half of her and how much she means to me.

It is these Sad Songs of love which I speak,
Under their spell I feel so weak.
For the artists all have something to be heard and told.
Whether it is of feelings burning hot or those of now cold.
These are the rhythms to which I am the slave,
The ones whom others words expressed and gave.

I listen to the notes play on and on.
Tearing a whole in the heart they feed upon.
As the beat plays on my mind wanders,
To dreams only spoken of way off yonder.
But I don't give up on dreams, never do I lose hope.
I endure the pain and have learned to cope.
Never will I let these rhythmic dreams be lost,
For they can't be bought at any cost.

LIFE

u never know how good you have it until that good is gone, be able to watch the sun go down or to see the break of dawn, be able to go to parties or invite over a friend.
ose were all the moments you thought would never end.
sometimes something happens that seems to get in the way, you may not ke it,
you don't have any say.
meday this will all pass and the bad things disappear member when you're feeling down and your world seems to be falling apart, is the most important thing you should treasure it with all your heart.

"TIME"

Fond memories
Are like sand
With each grain
Representing
A past knowledge
Containing
Something learned

Present situations
Form new crystals
With each dimension
Adding a new reflection
To the fine grains
Giving insight to each prism

Future experiences
Behold promises
With each day
The light will be dim sometimes
And other times it will be magnificent
Exploding rays of new feelings
Through the crystal and across the sand

Love is

Love is having not one care.
Love is looking back into the others stare.
Love is feeling it burning in your heart,
whenever you are seperated or apart.
Love is holding his or her hand,
and longing to be together whenever you can.
Love is remembering back in time,
and keeping those memories close in mind.

Some look for this love in different places.
Some look for it just in peoples faces.
But loves is not a physical relationship.
For that is not a forever long journey, but a very short trip.

The best kind of love is not wanted or sought,
neither is it captured or caught.
The best love grows from deep inside the heart,
of which that person becomes the largest part.

A Friendship Forgotten
Dedicated To: A Special Someone.

Remembering a time, not long ago,
when a friend I had was dear.

For now that's lost, forgotten,
all the goodness and the cheer.

A memory tucked deep away where in my heart he stays.

A friendship forgotten, for now,
but not always.

Our time will come again you see,
if not right now someday.

When our anger will subside and our pain will drift away.

So to that special someone I write this poem for you.

Because a friendship forgotten is a sorry thing to do.

DREAM

When I woke up this morning
And got out of bed,
I had really strange thoughts
Going through my head.
They were thoughts that came
From a wonderful dream
It was a vision of the world
Working as a team.
It was only a dream.

Surprise

I walk in the door and out of the cold
Now that I am warm, my hands will unfold.

Now inside, it should be light
But it's still dark; my eyes are squinched tight.

Casually I stroll back to my room
It's just not right: It's quiet as a tomb.

In I go and there I see
Things that don't belong to me.

Many thoughts rush through my mind
I wonder quickly what else I'll find.

Suddenly my heart steps up its pace
And a grin begins to cover my face.

Right away I turn and run
To where I know I'll find some fun.

Sure enough, there I see
Friends and family shouting to me

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

A group of men gathered
Discussion of a world
To be,
The plans and ideas
Falter
Left for you and me.

Money wasted on plans
Left undone - money wasted
On ideas overrun - men
Wasted on a cause
Forgotton - war rages on

Tried to push from

THRILLS

The speed of a rollercoaster in the sky.
As the whole world goes spinning by
Experiencing a feeling close to death
Out of control and out of breath.

Being chased through a narrow hall
With every step you're ready to fall
Getting closer to those who chase
And hold a gun up to your face.

Going through a long dark maze
Entering an unyielding craze
Then you slam blindly into a wall
And realize there's no escape at all.

Blindfolded traveling to a destination unknown
Intense anticipation builds and you're ready to groan
As the wind passes freely through your hair
Wanting to peek but not willing to dare.

It's risky but you take the chance
As your life passes in a glance.
To keep your life from being dull
You play with what you can't control.

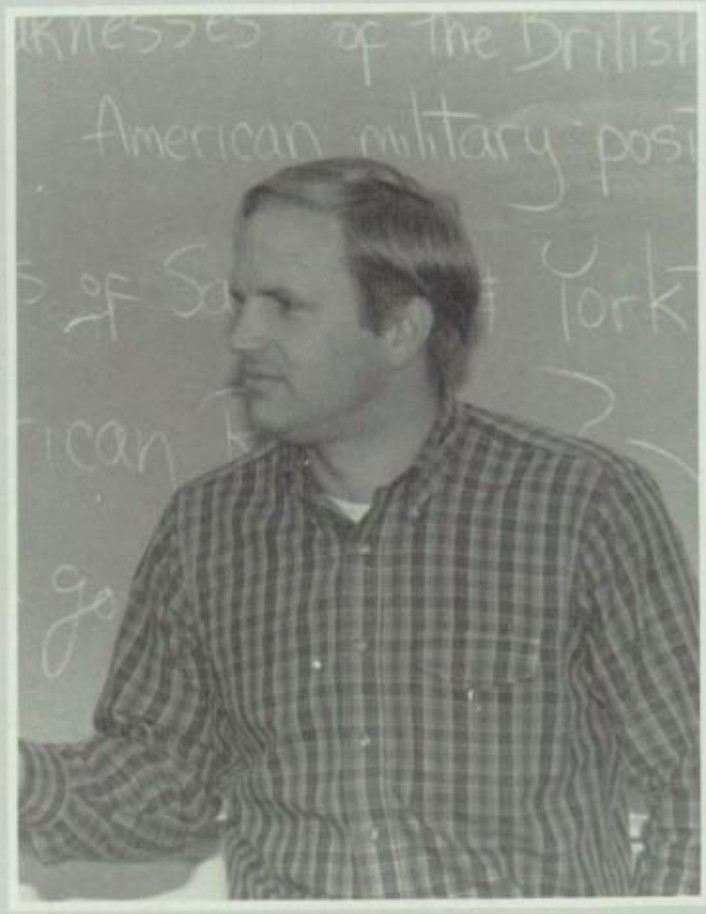
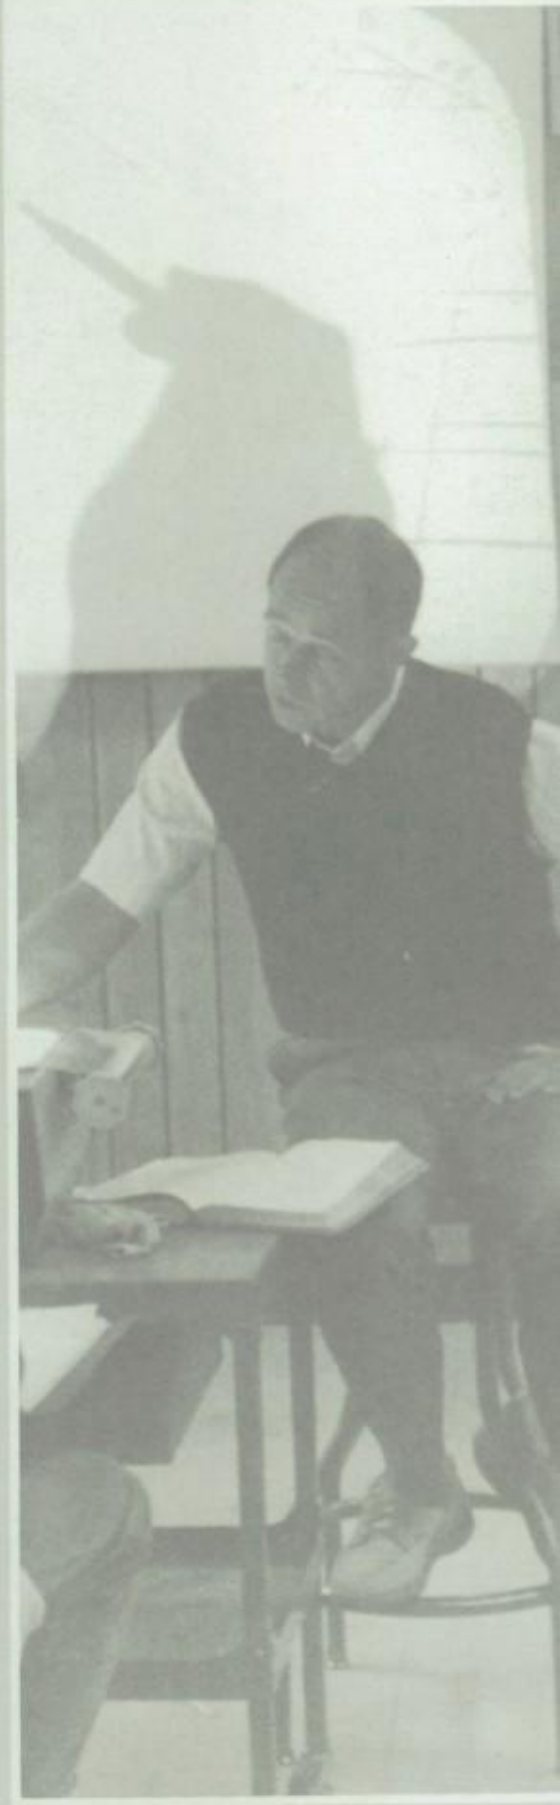
Faculty And Academics

CHANGESCHANGESCHANGESCHANGES

Achieving goals which are above and beyond everyday standards is sometimes always on the minds of many people at this high school. Many of these people belong to competitive clubs like Academic Decathlon and the California Scholarship Federation, to name only two. Teachers play a major part in the advancement of intellectual pursuit. With students and faculty working together, academic clubs have achieved tremendous recognition. A thanks and respect for both teachers and students is immensely deserved.





School Board Is Our Striving Force

Pass the agenda. Oh, are those the minutes? Who is this memo from? Is that the guest speaker? Good! Let's call this meeting to order!

The striving force of our administration consists of the school board. It's members are elected every four years to mold new policies and implement them. When problems arise, these are the people you must see to get things done. This past year they have placed many new projects into action such as the tardy policy, attendance policy, and plans for the new school. Little things like how big is the swimming pool going to be and how many restrooms are there going to be on the new campus are big obstacles that the school board dealt with. They pay particular attention to details such as these, and they keep our school running like a well-oiled machine.

Julie Sokol smiles brightly, while representing our school as a member of the A.S.B.

The board members pause and take a moment of silence.

Humor is found crossing Lynn Daucher's face. Are school board meetings really that much fun?

Excellence In Administration

The backbone of our school lies within our hard working administrative staff. We have had a few changes this year, but everyone still maintained that same Wildcat Spirit of excellence. These very special people help to lay the foundation of a strong educational background. We here at Brea are very lucky to have such special people, who care about the students striving to be their very best.

There was a small tree growing outside the cafeteria in 1959. It now 1987, and that tree is among the largest on campus. "Wher did the time go?" asks James Hilleary, who has taught almos every type of math at Brea since 1959. He finds pleasure associating wit the hundreds of students he teaches annually and in coaching the Ches Club and school math competition clubs. Among the teaching staff M Hilleary is known for his energy, humor, and kindness. Year after year h has taken students new to this country and our school "under his wing and helped them find a place at Brea in the math department or th Chess Club. He has been instrumental in helping several bright foreig students gain scholarships to fine universities. Though he hasn't receive any long overdue awards for his teaching efforts yet, he says his reward have been tons, and that is what teaching is all about.

Challenging Students' Perceptions

Teacher of the Year for 1971, GAA Coach of the Year 1982, and Brea-Olinda Unified School District Teacher of the Year for 1985 are just afew awards which Mr. Lynn Kennan has earned during his seventeen years of teaching at Brea Olinda High School. "Challenging students' perceptions of the world," is one of his great joys of teaching just about everything from AP Government to English. When he is not having a controversial discussion with a student, Mr. Kennan enjoys going places with his family, weightlifting, and reading about politics, economics, and social issues. Winning the Brea softball tournament in 1984 after trailing in the last inning with two outs and no one on bases is one of his fondest memories that reflects the enjoyment of his teaching years at Brea.

Helping Students Discover Their Talents

Mrs. Brigitte Little is very active at home and at school. Since 1973, Mrs. Little has taught English, French, and German for every grade level and is the advisor for the Foreign Language Club and Academic Decathalon Team. In addition, she runs the student exchange program at BOHS. She spends her free time reading, going to the theater, listening to music, traveling, going to museums, and any activities that include being with young people.

Awards like "Outstanding IL Teacher", "Service Beyond Self" award, and the German-American Friendship award shows how much Mrs. Little contributes to BOHS. However, one very special award Mrs. Little received was a blue ribbon given by her class which named her "Outstanding Singer", and she still treasures it. As she explains the best part of teaching, Mrs. Little says, "Watching students discover their talents in language and open their minds and hearts to other cultures, peoples, and ideas about living, still gives me great joy in my teaching."

Liebe Andrea - Jennifer,
Es war mir ein großes Vergnügen, Dich zwei Jahre lang im Deutschunterricht zu haben. (Es ist eine alte Familientradition, nicht wahr?) Alles Gute für Dich. Auf Wiedersehen — und vielen Dank für den Kuchen!

Mrs. Rachel Sweet has been teaching English at BOHS for 9 years. As "Teacher of the Year" in 1986 and the advisor of organizations such as Academic Decathalon Team and Kiwanis Bowl, Mrs. Sweet has had many memorable moments. For instance, one of her students was having the class follow a demonstration on making paper airplanes. After each student had assembled their craft, they all launched the planes in the air at once. At that moment, the door opened and in came Superintendent Edgar Seal, Assistant Superintendent Peter Boothroyd, and Principal Jean Sullivan.

Aside from teaching, Mrs. Sweet enjoys quilting, knitting, reading, being a soccer referee, and going to operas, plays, and concerts.

Brea's Own Mad Scientist

Motivating students to use their minds creatively in the field of science is something Mr. John Zoeckler, who has been a member of the faculty here at Brea since September 1968, does continually. Having taught IPS, Chemistry, BSCS Biology, General Biology, Field Biology, and other environmental courses, Mr. Zoeckler has seen many kids turn into "fine young men and women." Through the years his memories have been carved with the history of time. Some of his special memories he has shared with students include watching the Apollo astronauts walk on the Moon for the first time, seeing many first-day freshmen arrive, and viewing many tearful graduations. This current advisor of Theater Tech finds recreation in fishing, photography, travel, and cooking. He has been awarded such honors as Teacher of the Year '71- '72 and '83-'84, Mentor Teacher '85-'86, and the CTA "Who" award in 1977. It is quite evident that dedicated faculty members like Mr. Zoeckler contribute to the fine reputation of Brea Olinda High School.

Keeping Our School Efficient

Ringgg!!! Is that the phone - again! Superintendent on line one. Frantic parent on line two. Did someone call the copier repairman, yet? Are all these students here to speak to Mr. Moe? Can someone type this? Not now, there's the phone again!

Ah, this is simply yet another hectic day in the life of the Brea-Olinda office staff. These dedicated women are quick, bright, and efficient. Juggling the phone in one hand, call slips in another, sipping coffee and typing madly, there just seems to be no end to what they can accomplish or any challenge that they can't take on. These women are truly jacks of all trades. They inform, notify, page or track down and shoot any person, place, or thing, you need. They do the impossible and beyond. Even working late into the night, the "night caller" rings up a few parents. "It seems they're all home sick today!"

"Can't you see I'm busy right now!" exclaims Mrs. Israel.

Carol Herres keeps her composure during the trying morning hours of readmitting students.

As the work keeps piling up, Mrs. Tennison seems to be lost in the shuffle.

Serving Our School With A Smile

The cafeteria and custodial staffs are just a few of the behind-the-scenes people who make our school tick. They each serve Brea in their own special way.

Early in the morning, a wiff of cooking can be smelled. For those of you who didn't have time to eat breakfast at home, you could have gotten something warm to eat and drink from the cafeteria. One, two periods go by, were you still hungry? No need to despair, you could have gotten a quick bite to eat at snack. Then of course, there was the infamous lunch with its long lines and crowded areas. It is not an easy task to feed the mouths of some 1,200 students who all want their food immediately. The cafeteria tried to serve the needs of everyone, while adding special touches here and there.

What group of people did more cleaning up after us than our mothers? Thankfully, the custodial staff did; they kept us from being up to our eyeballs in papers that had been thrown out of lockers, bookbags, pockets, and purses. These fine men worked hard, at keeping everything in good running condition.

Their service to Brea-Olinda cannot be ignored, nor should it be. Each individual owes a great deal to these men and women for their kindness and most certainly, their patience.

Question: What type of students subject themselves to a day of non-stop testing in ten different categories? Answer: Top notch students competing in the Academic Decathalon. The Academic Decathalon tests the mind in subjects such as: astronomy, fine arts, literature, world history, mathematics, and other such areas.

With the guidance and knowledge of Rachel Sweet and Brigitte Little, a team of six students: Jinha Kim, Brian Daucher, Rach el Vega, Alan Ito, Stacey Fresquez, Jarret Hudson, and alternates Paul Niwa, Alfred Garcia, Mona Lee, and Rose Mastracci, prospered greatly. As a matter of fact, the team took fourth place overall, which made them contenders for the Orange County Regional Finals. It was with great pride that Mrs. Sweet and Mrs. Little looked upon a winning team which accumulated twelve individual gold, silver, and bronze medals at the November 15, 1986 decathalon.

Victory was sweet, but not without a lot of time and preparation behind the actual event. Twice a week the team met discussing, debating, and sharing ideas. Guest speakers and helpful teachers spoke to the participants to give them a few words of wisdom and tips to follow.

Each member wrote and polished speeches on any topic of his choice, learned interviewing techniques, and memorized every fact written upon the Constitution for the most pressured test of them all, the Super Quiz.

This years decathalon members brought much recognition to Brea-Olinda. All congratulate their success and hope that this fine tradition of knowledge continues in the years to come.

Kiwanis Bowl Team Quick And Sharp

Each year in January the top triva buffs at BOHS gather to form our Kiwanis Bowl team. The Kiwanis Bowl is a countywide competition sponsored by the Kiwanis Clubs of Orange County for high school students. Each member is expected to have quick recall and a wide scope of knowledge in a wide variety of subjects encompassing: art, current events, history, literature, music, science, and sports.

This year's team, under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Gahr and Mrs. Rachel Sweet, included: Jeff Anton, Todd Coop, Brian Daucher, Mike Dewberry, Greg Floyd, Alfred Garcia, Alan Ito, Brian Jones, Jay Lee, Paul Niwa, and alternates, Karthik Gopalakrishna, and Tony Lee. The team competed in the third division at Magnolia High School and was very successful in bringing much honor to Brea-Olinda High School. We are all proud.

Nevertheless, the rewards were not reaped without a lot of hard work. The team gathered in room 205 at lunch three times a week every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday in order to quicken their skills with the new electronic buzzers and prepare for the intensity of the competition. We at Brea-Olinda thank you and give our congratulations!

Making Our Education And Experience Work Together

A job is something which a teenager wants and is something which is essential to an adult. If a student acquires enough experience while still a teenager, he will be that much more employable in adulthood. The Regional Occupation Program at Brea-Olinda strives to help students become valuable employees. R.O.P. is not only practical in a long term sense, as it also gives valuable high school credit to students who choose to enroll in R.O.P. courses. This organization offers interesting semester courses such as photography, auto shop, banking, and many others. When such an ambitious program is led by such people as Mr. Saulsbury and Mrs. Sage, the future is in good hands for this generation of teens.

The clock ticks. Time drags on. It's 2:54 P.M., Monday afternoon. The clock ticks. It's 2:55 P.M., but where's the bell! The clock must be broken. The power must have been turned off. Do people still work in the main office? R-r-ring!! "Finally, there it is! I thought I was a goner, but the pulse rate is back again." Papers fly, doors open, and lockers slam.

This is merely just another day for each and every Brea High School student. Now be honest, how many of us are clock watchers? It's o.k. to say yes, it's Brea-olinda's students only flaw. After all each individual here at Brea makes the school the best it's ever been. From the mighty seniors to the newest members of the crowd, the freshmen, each person contributed in promoting enthusiasm and knowledge. Class competitions were held throughout the year keeping everyone involved and active in school affairs.

What is a senior? A senior is the one at the top, the head of the school, the one who seems to have all the moves.

What is a junior? A junior is second in command, with lots of dreams and goals to plan.

What is a sophomore? A sophomore is a step in the right direction, a step straight ahead.

What is a freshman? A freshman is a foot in the door always wanting and striving for more.

But no matter what we are, with our education at Brea we'll always go far.

JUNIORS

The Junior class had an extremely busy year. Plans to build spirit in such ways as class competitions, canned food drives, t-shirt sales etc. helped to make an overall exciting year.

Starting off the year, the Junior class began it's planning for it's main project, the Junior-Senior Prom. Plans included a dance at the beginning of the year, which helped raise $300.00 dollars. Other fundraisers included concession stands on the visitor's side at all home football games.

After all their hard work and determination, the Prom resulted in dancing and enjoyment for all who attended.

November's Homecoming brought Juniors together for a week of tiresome, but well to do time on the 1986 Homecoming float, which brought the Junior class third place.

Bringing success to the Junior class were President David Chaffin, Vice President Tami Murray, Secretary Kara Clizbe, Treasurer Lori Bachand, and Class Representative David Nevell. Our hats are off to a job well done!

Jacob Shin-Representative, Sally Ortiz-Secretary, Todd Flora-President, Laura Christoffersen-Treasurer, Brian Hudson-Vice President.

A strong sense of spirit and the drive to sponsor many activities helped the sophomore class forget their time of "freshmandom" and to have the best time possible. Led by president Todd Flora, vice president Brian Hudson, secretary Sally Ortiz, treasurer Laura Christoffersen, and representative Jacob Shin, the class of 89 sponsored many dances, one of which was co-sponsored by "Guess". Many kids walked away with a smile on their face because of the prizes given out, such as "Guess" clothing. They also sponsored the popular "Data Match" and also raised money with numerous car washes. It is quite obvious that the class of 89 is an innovative one and is headed for many successes in the future.

These sophomores remember how the good life used to be as freshmen.

Look again upperclassmen! These are not the sterotypical freshmen of years past. For years the freshmen have been known more affectionately as squids, twerps, scrubs, weasels, slime, pond scum, and munchkins, but not this year! The class of 1990 was filled with bright, happy-go-lucky students. These freshmen didn't hide behind trashcans or in them, but stood up proudly and announced to all, "I'm a Freshmen!"

The freshmen class carried on school tradition by working with the sophomore, junior, and senior classes in various activities promoting spirit. They entered a float for the Homecoming Parade and helped in the can food drive.

For many, to be a freshmen was an exciting new challenge and their first taste of freedom. "I love being a freshmen! Everything becomes a new experience," exclaimed Audrey Owen.

You're a really special girl and my "bestest" friend ever and don't you dare let anyone tell you different! Please take care of yourself over the summer! Eat right okay! I'd hate to lose you just because you wanna be skinnier than you already are! Keep working out and be real buff! We have to spend time together this sommer! Call me okay! Well now for the memories! A Friend just isn't enough;
To express our love for you.
Between each and everyone of us,
You built a lasting friendship-so true.
You gave so much of yourself,
Never wanting to let us down,
Not knowing just a glimpse of your smile,
Could take away any frown.
You brought us closer together,
Taught us to cheer as one.
Out on the football field,
You made it so much fun.
Even in the Sonora mud,
On that cold and rainy night,
Nothing would stop your smile,
From shining out so bright.
You were a perfect cheerleader,
One we all looked up to.
It seems so hard, but now we must,
Face our lives without you.
We'll always hold you in our hearts,
Now while you're in heaven,
Because, Lisa, we love you so much,
The Varsity Squad of 87.

With much aloha,
Trina Cadish

Changes

Our Four Years Are Over

But They Won't Be Forgotten

A lot of people are responsible for the production of this book, and I would like to give them the recognition they deserve.

To Mrs. Gahr: Only you and I realize the nerves of steel and concrete determination that it takes to build a good yearbook. It's true that the two books we have put together as an editor/advisor team are not the best, but when I look at them, I remember all the time we spent on them and the amount of work that went into them, and I can only be proud of what we have done. There is no way for me to express the proper amount of gratitude to you for helping me, in and out of class. Your constant pushing, as well as understanding, is what got me through the year. Thank you, so much.

To a one-of-a-kind yearbook staff: Mrs. Gahr and I took a chance at recruiting such a young staff, but I'm glad we did. You guys proved to be the most productive staff in a long time. You took so much pressure off of me, and made the process of creating a yearbook so much easier. Besides being good workers, you were even greater friends. Thanks so much. It would have been impossible without you.

To Sanford Studios: Thanks once again for another year of excellent pictures and service. By looking through this book, you could tell that it all wouldn't have been possible without you.

To Jostens, our representative "Hoot" Gibson, and all the people at the plant who put this book together: Thank You, and I hope we didn't make things too confusing this year, I know some of our layouts were pretty outrageous. But by looking at this book, I can tell we all did a pretty good job. Thanks again.

I would like to give a special thanks to Mike Cole for his help this year. His artwork in the sports section definitely adds a professional touch.

To my friends: What can a person say to a group of friends that have made four years of terror-filled schoolwork seem like it was actually fun? I really don't know, except thank you. But that seems such an insignificant way to pay back so many people for so much. I look back at all the fun I had this year, and events like Homecoming, New Years, and the Coed make me realize how important friends are in high school, how big a part of life being a friend really is, and how one friend can turn your life around. I feel lucky that I had so many friends and I had so many ways to turn when I needed someone to talk to. I wish I could single out all of my friends to thank them, but I just can't. I'm going to make one exception, though. There is one person, one friend, that has been such a great affect on me during high school. Whether we were conducting Key Club business, doing a cross country workout, studying for AP Government quizzes, or digging horseshoe pits, David Bailey and I always managed to have a good time. Dave, I can't thank you enough for being such a great friend, through all the good times and bad throughout our four year sentence at BOHS. You will always have a friend in me.

And finally, I want to thank all the teachers that have made high school such a pleasure: Mrs. Little: The past four years of German have really been great, and I'm really looking forward to our trip to Germany this summer. Vielen Dank, fur Alles. Mr. Kennan: I can honestly say that I enjoyed a social science course. Thanks for a good year of AP Government, and in return I'd like to offer you a scholarship to the Jim Hudak School of Public Relations and Brownnosing. Mrs. Brotman: I owe you a lot. Thanks for being so understanding when I had to take care of yearbook stuff and all of my other problems. And all my other teachers: Mr. Hilleary, Mr. Holst, Mrs. Taylor, Coach Holton, Coach Hiskey, and everyone else. A big Thank You for everything.

I know that graduating from high school is marking the end of an era in our lives. We are leaving each other after having grown up together, something that is no doubt hard to do. But Brea Olinda's Class of '87 is unique in that there is nothing that will ever tear us apart. No matter what we're doing, where we're going to school, or where our lives will take us, we will always be together at heart. I'd like to wish everyone the best of luck in the future, and I hope that the ten years that separate us from our reunion will pass by quickly. I know they will.

With Love to All
